

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

http://www.archive.org/details/battlefield199380univ

JUN 14 1994

OFFICE OF DEVUL FRITHIN UTS

Life Anye's Heights MARY WASHINGTON COLLEGE 1993 BATTLEFIELD

Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401

photos by Mike Woodward

$Gallery \bullet 3$

photo by Rafaela Cox

photo by Anne Stat

6 • Gallery

^{10 •} Gallery

photo by Mike Hloodward

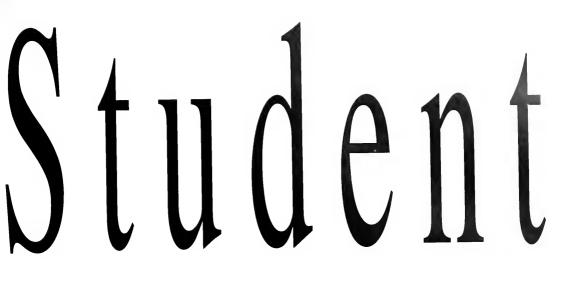

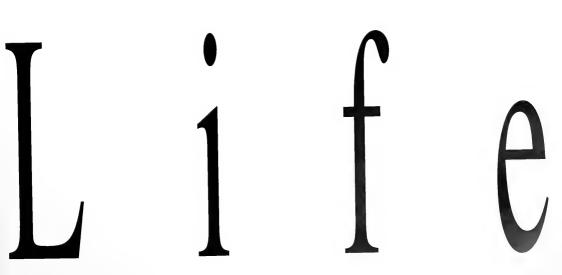

14 • Gallery

15 • Gallery

Wayne Blankenship and Jennifer LaWatsch

On sunny days, the front steps of Trinkle are preferable to the quiet, stale study rooms.

Spring Breakers Steve Craig, Kyle Ryan, Jeremy Cline and Adam Fike

18• Candids

The Men of South

"Hurling" during Junior Rig Week referred (mostly) to the famous Velcro jump.

Candids • 19

In The Beginning

As we closed the book on summer of 1992, a few hundred freshmen reached the MWC campus. Suddenly, the Georgian garden of learning they once visited was rapidly becoming a second home.

The weekend of August 21, the brick paths were congested with mini-vans, large boxes, and tearful parents. Moving days were sunny and warm, and filled with more than furniture and good-byes.

A host of activities were planned to ease the arrival of the new students. The traditional Freshman Olympics offered an active opportunity to make new acquaintances. The Great Hall and the Underground drew crowds with their video dance parties. And, of course, residential students were treated to icebreakers at the first of many hall meetings.

As always, Ball Circle was the center (literally!) of attention. Fredericksburg's merchants spread out their own welcome mats under the shade of large tents teening with freebies and advertisements. A few days later, a horseshoe of tables enticed students to join the various organizations and teams on campus. Virtually every officially recognized club displayed some information or paraphernalia; there were also demonstrations and educational videos.

As returning students arrived, several of MWC's traditions were continued. Sunday evening, students were invited to Brompton for a tour of President Anderson's home and a light reception on the lawn. First-time students returned to Dodd Auditorium to sign the Honor Pledge at the ceremonial Honor Convocation.

This hectic weekend was concluded by Monday morning, the day that initiated the routine of classes, studying and more classes.

Each year, student involvement beings with club carnival, where organizations recruit new members.

Orientation • 21

At the freshman Olympics, where things got a little personal, it was easy to get to know people

New students were introduced to long lines and big bills at the bookstore.

Willard Hall welcomed students with banners... and much appreciated air-conditioned rooms.

Student Life

Are You Politically Right? Wrong? or Left (Out)?

The phrase "politically correct" at first seemed to signify an abstract ideal to which we all should aspire. Lately, though, it has become a stigma applied generally to overzealous activists most people deem offensive. Yet, regardless of how you view the "P.C." argument, we have all learned something: you cannot glide through life in ignorance; you must be at least aware of the world around you. This year, the MWC campus offered many opportunities for students to become more socially informed.

In late September, students at the college were called on to defend their reputations at a public hearing in the City Council chambers. Fredericksburg residents had filed numerous complaints about students disrupting their community; accusations included vandalism, littering, noise pollution, drinking offenses, unlawful residence and parking violations. Organized by the Legislative Action Committee, a group of students attended an open forum on campus the day before the meeting to prepare their statements. Surprisingly, City Council members appeared willing to cooperate; perhaps this was in response to the obvious student involvement.

The subject that turned probably more heads during these months than any other was racism. In reaction to the controversial ethnic studies class, Associate Professor of Philosophy Craig Vasey organized a faculty forum to discuss the definition of "racism" and race relations on our campus. Students and faculty were gathered two months later for a similar discussion. On November 18, a standing-room-only/capacity crowd of students attended a rally to demonstrate their opposition to racial intolerance.

Students and faculty observed Banned Book Week—so named by the American Booksellers Foundation for Free Speech—between September 26 and October 3. The goal of these activities was to alert people to this dangerous infringement upon freedom; the idea was spread that censorship is more harmful than any book. At last count, 29 "banned" books are currently used in classes at MWC.

The MWC Sexual Assault Committee, in conjunction with peer educators and the Women's Resource Center, sponsored Sexual Assault Awareness Month in October. Events included a candlelight vigil and circulation of petitions to show support for a bill against sexual assault.

One of the most controversial issues in our country today—one that consistently raises eyebrows—is homosexuality. On April 1, more than 1,300 members of the college community demonstrated their concern at a forum entitled "Homosexuality, Morality and Equality." It was such a popular topic that the crowd—too large to squeeze into the Great Hall—was moved to Dodd Auditorium. Religion professor David Cain moderated the discussion between Steve Stageberg, from the economics department, and geography professor Donald Rallis. Stageberg and Rallis offered their views on the perspectives of Christians and homosexuals, respectively. Their speeches were followed by a spirited question and answer period, during which both men fielded some difficult questions.

The homosexuality forum was very carefully publicized as a forum for discussion, not a debate. A similar format was employed by the Women's Issues Group in the fall to examine the controversy over abortion. Although the vocal leaders of both the pro-life and pro-choice groups on campus were present, it remained a peaceful, open-minded situation. The more realistic goal of discussions such as these is to help students to become socially informed, not necessarily "politically correct."

> Students of all races participated in the November rally to demonstrate their stand against racial hatred.

RALLY 3:45 this Wednesday In front of Lee Hall.

Come and show that hatred and violence will not be tolerated on this campus. THANK You.

22• Awareness

Students and faculty members volunteered to read passages from their favorite "baned" books during the bookstore's Banned Book Week.

At the forum on homosexuality, associate professor of economics Steve Stageberg (right) responds to a student's question after his exchange with assistant professor of geography Donald Rallis.

Awareness • 23

The Legislative Action Committee organized several registration drives to encourage students to vote. Hundreds of students and Fredericksburg residents read President George Bush's lips when his campaign for re-election stopped here on September 4.

President-elect Bill Clinton was spotted in Culpeper en route from Charlottesville to the capital on an historic bus trip to celebrate his inauguration.

24• Election

Sara Grant, leader of the campus pro-life group, proudly showed her support for Bush's re-election.

Names

As part of te celebration of Black History Month, the Virginia State University Dance Troupe performed "My Name Is African-American."

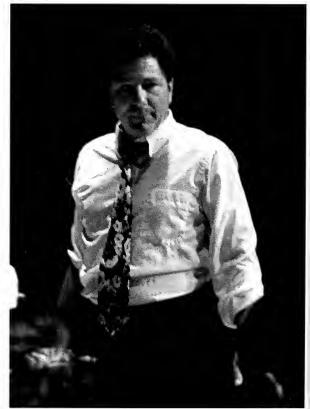

Tom DeLuca's September presentation had students entranced.

What do feminists, environmentalists, poets and hypnotists have in common? Absolutely nothing--until they each came to MWC this year.

Author Susan Faludi led the parade of big names with her lecture and book signing on September 6. Faludi's career in investigative journalism has led her to the New York Times' best-seller list, and in 1991 was recognized with the Pulitzer Prize. Her latest work--Backlash: The Undeclared War Against American Women--asserts that the images of women distorted by the media and government have created a cultural backlash against women. She dismisses theories of the "biological clock" and "man shortage" as inventions of society, and urges her readers to question these deceitful authorities.

Another powerful voice for feminine rights, Naomi Wolf, spoke on March 22 about her 1991 best-seller The Beauty Myth: How Images of Beauty Are Used Against Women. In the same vein as Faludi and their "third wave feminist" following, she asks women to defy the stereotypes of the past. In contrast to Faludi's theory, however, The Beauty Myth suggests that the cultural backlash visible today is a response to women's increasingly successful positions in society.

26 • Guests & Performers

& Faces

The highlight of Women's History Month was an appearance by Naomi Wolf, whose best-seller The Beauty Myth discusses stereotypes and successes of women in society.

Not all of this year's speakers were so political. In February, the college hosted its Distinguished Visitor in Residence of the Year, Stephen Schneider, whose lecture on "The Global Warming Debate" taught students and faculty a great deal about the greenhouse effect. As a research scientist. Schneider is lobbying for greater governmental awareness of environmental issues.

All of MWC's guests were not so gravely serious, though. Early in September, twice-running College Entertainer of the Year Tom DeLuca displayed his hypnotic talents to a full house in Dodd. A similarly large audience crowded into Dodd to hear comedian Walli Collins in February. Collins, best known for his appearances on MTV, tickled the audience with commentary about childhood and college life.

Student Life

Guests & Performers • 27

Dean Dinning, of Toad the Wet Sprocket

Although the Toad show was virtually unpublicized, tickets sold out in a matter of hours.

The sultry Tori Amos

Toads & Blossoms?

Kicking off the concert year was an unforgettable appearance by Tori Amos on September 16. It all began so innocently-Amos seated gracefully at the piano, in front of a few hundred hushed college students in a respectable, conservative town. It was really a dignified scene, until the crashing chords and seductive lyrics slowly eroded all modesty. Even her fiery red hair was no indication of the show's overwhelming intensity—any earthquakes certainly were not little. In a subtle mixture of ballads and pounding rock rhythms, Amos explored themes of religion, sexuality and innocence with more emotion than your average wedding day. Her brief concert still stands as one of the year's best.

Just a few days later, the D.C. sound of Drivin' 'N Cryin' swelled through the Great Hall. Opened by the Voodoo Pistons, this show was a great testimony to the popularity of southern rock.

Certainly the most well-known group that played was Toad the Wet Sprocket, whose November 7 show was one of the most popular events of the year. The band-Dean Dinning, Todd Nichols, Randy Guss and Glen Phillips-was on tour to promote their third album, fear. Singable tracks such as "Walk on the Ocean" and "All I Want" helped to launch Toad from alternative anonymity to MTV mainstream virtually overnight. The story of the Gin Blossoms-the opening act for the Toad show-is very similar. The Tempe, Arizona, natives had already been together for five years when the single "Hey Jealousy" from The New Miserable Experience album instantly became their first success.

There was a dramatic shift in tone with the performance by the Brand New Heavies in late October. The Heavies-Simon Bartholomew, Andrew Levy and Jan Kincaid—are a former high school group from England whose current album, Heavy Rhyme Experience Vol. 1, spawned the single "People Get Ready," which was used in the movie Juice. Their sound is an inimitable blend of dance, rap, R&B and jazz. No matter what you call it, HALL though, it was a foot-stomping show, rivaled only by the GREAT HASHING Earth Day spectacular.

THE

MARY

RUDITORIUM

unknown dren-

On April 21, two relatively bands--Pond and Poster Chilprepared the Great Hall's anxious audience for the main event: The Screaming Trees. Although rain had forced the show indoors, the Trees played a full set for some very appreciative fans.

Of course, these weren't the of the year. The Performing Artist brought some icons from the classiscene to the campus, including the Stockholm Arts Trio. Igor Kipnis, the String Quartet, and the Annapolis Brass MWC's Visiting Artists in Music.

Concerts • 29

only concerts Series cal music

2.00 me 2.00 min 5 10 min STUDENT

STUDENT

CTUMENT

00 NUC STUDENT

55.00 HUE

Cavani Southens Life

The curtain rose on the 1992-1993 theater season with the production of William Hoffman's As Is. Under the direction of Tari Stage, the Department of Dramatic Arts and Dance presented a very timely play that proved to be a learning experience for all involved. As Is deals with classical dramatic themes--life, love and death--in a contemporary context. It is the story of a character named Rich Farrell, a homosexual who struggles to continue living with the AIDS virus. The audience and is allowed to casually observe the sometimes humorous but always emotional consequences as Rick discloses the news of his disease to his family, his friends, even his former lover, Saul, who is an ironic source of love and support. In preparation for their emotionally demanding roles, the cast went out to meet the Rich Farrells of the world. Members talked with homosexuals and AIDS patients, volunteered for the 1992 AIDSwalk fundraiser, and visited the AIDS memorial quilt displayed in Washington -- a monument to those who have died from AIDS.

The spring production by the Dramatic Arts and Dance students, The Boys Next Door, also handled some thoughtprovocative issues. This play, written by Tom Griffin, revolves around four mentally challenged men who share an apartment. The daily experiences of Norman, Arnold, Barry and Lucien were expected to reveal the weaknesses in others. Like As Is, Boys explores serious social questions in four lead actors, along with director Greg Stull, were educated for their roles by working with the mentally disadvantaged in our area. Nicki Bottom and Puck (Anna Martin and Mara Klein)

In the spring, the Performing Arts Club revived Shakespear's A Midsummer Night's Dream, bringing life and laughter to the amphitheater.

All The Campus Is A Stage

The final curtain call of the year actually required no curtain at all. In the spring, members of the Performing Arts Club staged William Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream in the historically appropriate amphitheater. More than 50 students, led by peer director Jason Bryan, contributed to this production, which had audiences laughing out loud through five performances.

Amy Mumpower Marilyn and Elvis. . . who did you think?

Donna Douglas, Edward Rollins, Mary Scarborough, Wayne Campbell. Kristen Maestri and Leo Rollins

Halloween's • 33

Student Life

Celebration of Diversity "Differences Enrich Us All"

The early spring sun warmed the bricks of Campus Walk to welcome the third annual Mary Washington College Multicultural Fair. More than 50 vendors, merchants, entertainers and educators lined the path, which quickly swelled with students, faculty and Fredericksburg residents. The day was a shining success.

Hispanic, Asian, Scottish, Irish, Jewish, Native American, African American. . . no matter who you are, you could find the common denominator on April 3, 1993. Coordinated by the Multicultural Center, the fair is intended to celebrate racial, ethnic and cultural diversity among peoples. This year's theme, "Differences Enrich Us All," also implies that a lot can be learned from the differences between us. The purpose of the fair is to showcase these varieties for everyone to experience.

It was a virtual playground of the senses: brightly decorated tables overflowing with merchandise, literature and art; the roaming song of bagpipes; frequent assemblies in front of Lee and Trinkle Halls, as spectators cheered singers, dancers, and musicians; the peculiar aroma of curried goat, egg rolls and funnel cake; the perpetual beckon of the megaphone, announcing events not to be missed. The whirlwind of activity endured for seven full hours.

Among the participants in this year's fair were several of the campus's student-run groups, including the Asian Students Association, Hispanic Students Association, Black Student Association, Women of Color and Brothers of New Direction. Members of the faculty were also involved; Dr. David Cain and retired professor George Van Sant scurried about with megaphones, alerting people to upcoming events. The MWC Show Choir and the Voices of Praise were also among the day's performers.

The slate of entertainers was likewise diverse. Guest musicians included Flory Jagoda (a Jewish guitarist), Russ Maclin (spiritual music) and the Army Blues/Jazz Ensemble. There were demonstrations of Ecuadorian, Native American, and Irish folk dances, as well as Calypso dancers, and Egyptian belly dancer and ensembles such as ODADAA! and the Good TIme Cloggers.

These agricultural impersonators were among the many who contributed to the fair--either performing or managing displays.

34 • Multcultural Fair

Musical performers represented many corners of the world.

Information tables such as this one spread the word about diversity.

This brilliantly colored Chinese dragon drew attention as it weaved through the crowds.

Food spoke a universal language as diverse aromas escaped from tart or the lined Ball circle

photos by Mike Woodward

Multcultural Fair • 35

36 • Fall & Spring Formals

Student Life

Fall & Spring Formals • 37

The People You See at MWC

After early morning thunderstorms, Devil-Goat Day festivities were moved to the Underground. SAE crew member Brian Hollingsworth grooves along the sidelines to the Black Sheep.

Religious diversity is a great part of Campus life as students search for a place of worship. 1700 miles later. Steve Craig, Adam Fike, Jeremy Cline, and Kyle Ryan stood at the gates of Graceland, the home of Elvis Aaron Presley for twenty years before faking his death in 1977. Note the ties. photos by Mike Woodward

Devon Williams and Lori Rose were two of the many happy faces at the senior class's 193rd night.

photo by Red West

The lawn in front of Randolph hosted many games of stickball. Freshman Cary Young's swings for the roof of Mason.

Dan Corbin, Dan Oliver and friends improvise Willard's own golf course, using a tennis ball for the back nine. photo by Lileen Heffern

If, just once, he had left a hat--brimside up--on the sidewalk, he would have made a fortune.

Candids • 39

Kelly Helmstutler, Devon Williams and Grilling up some fun at the Mason/ Lori Rose at 193rd Night

Randolph Unconcious Party

Melissa Grady, making some friends at 193rd Night

Wesley Shepherd, present at 193rd Night to make sure no one had too much fun

Swinging deals at Monte Carlo Nie 1

Commuter parking signs like this one--once an endangered species---sprouted up all around the campus this year. Photo by Mike Woodward

A rare spring snow blanketed the campus after spring break.

"Oh Christmas tree. . . "

photos by Lileen Heffern

A sunny day at the beach between Mason and Randolph.

photo by Mike Woodu and

On Campus

Student Life

Campus • 43

Virginia Clarke, Scott Lester, Jennifer Gavin and Kim Gossett Rachel Keene and Brion Daly, after a hard day at the library

Mariah Davin

Students always use their time wisely in Trinkle.

Around Town

Built in 1920, the Fredericksburg train station is critical to many students as a junction between school and home.

46 • Around Town

All roads lead to College Avenue, but once you get there, just hopeyou can find a place to park.

Around Town • 47

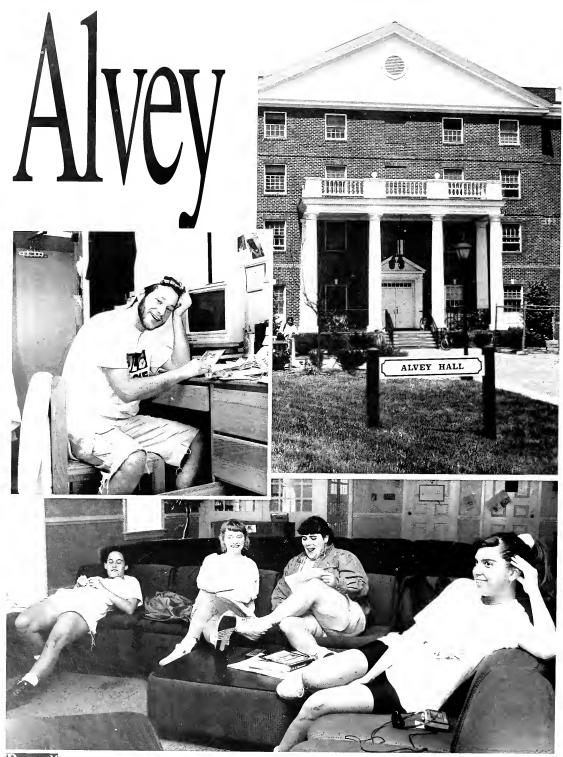

Spanky's opened in the fall and quickly became a place for some to eat and hang out and for others, a place to work.

Cards and Cones , downtown on William St. is popular not only for great ice cream, but cheap birthday presents as well.

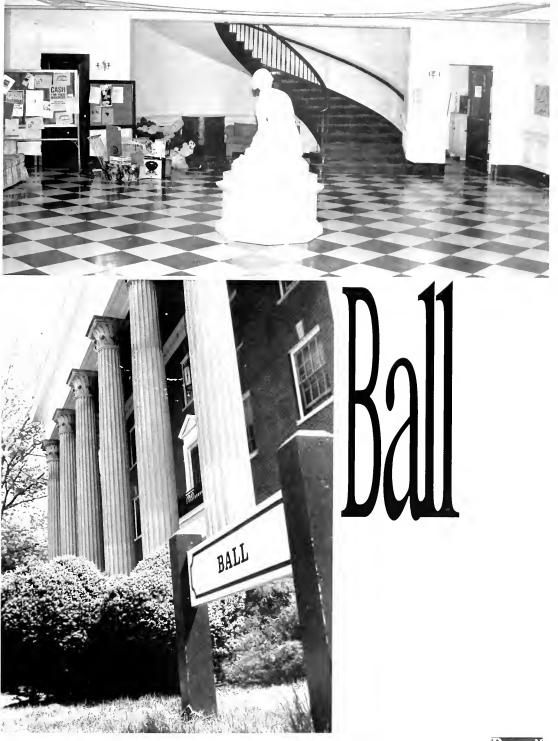

Student Life

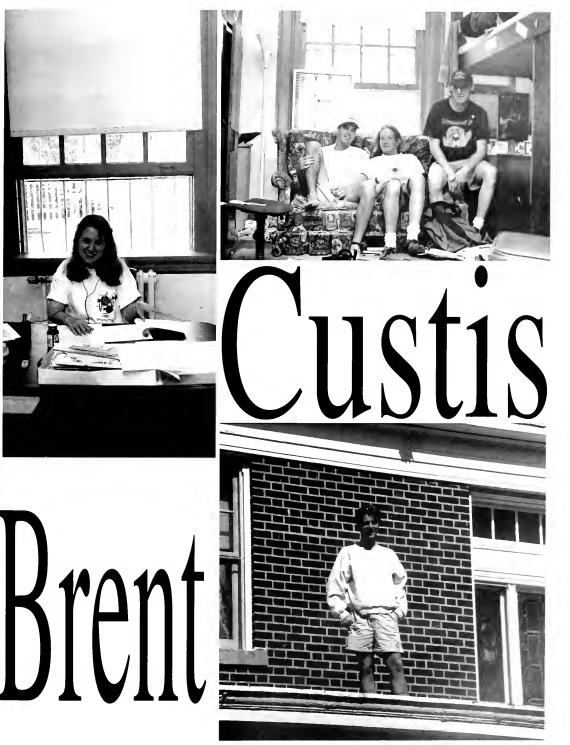

Dorms• 51

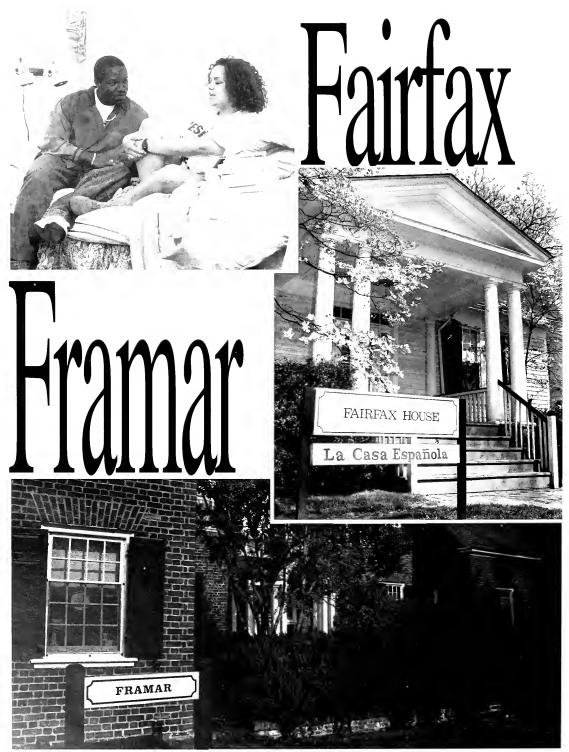

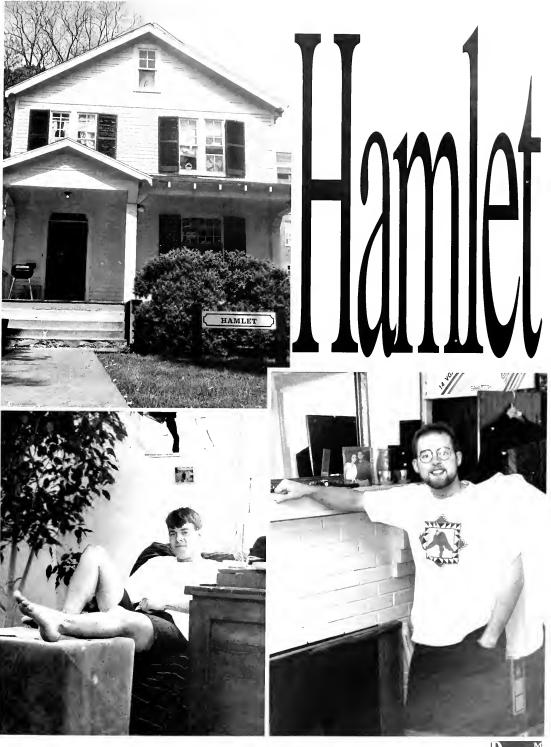

Dorms• 53

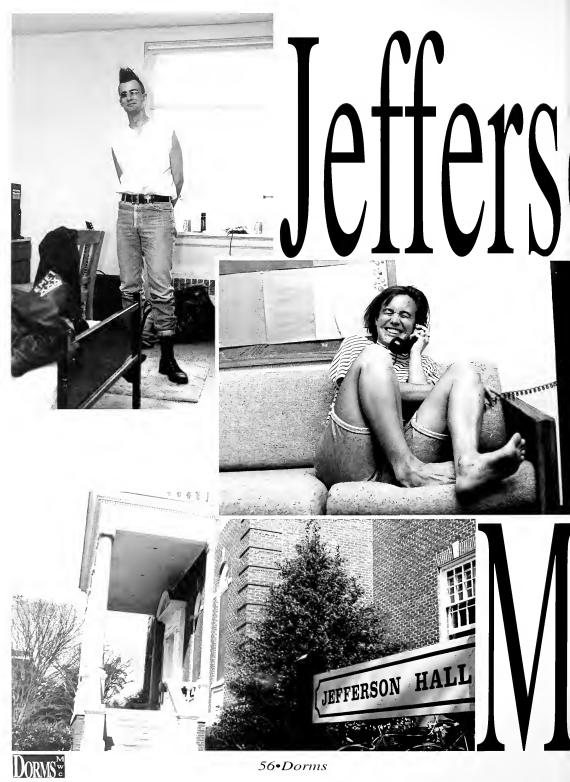

DORMS

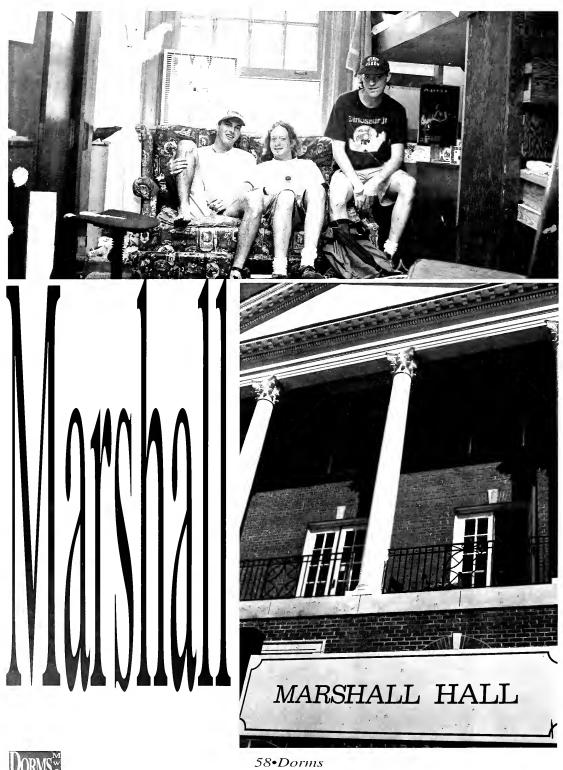

Dorms• 55

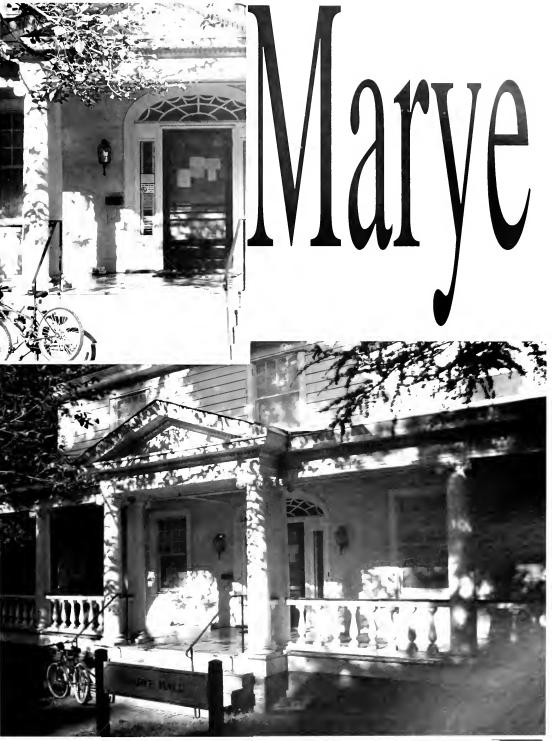

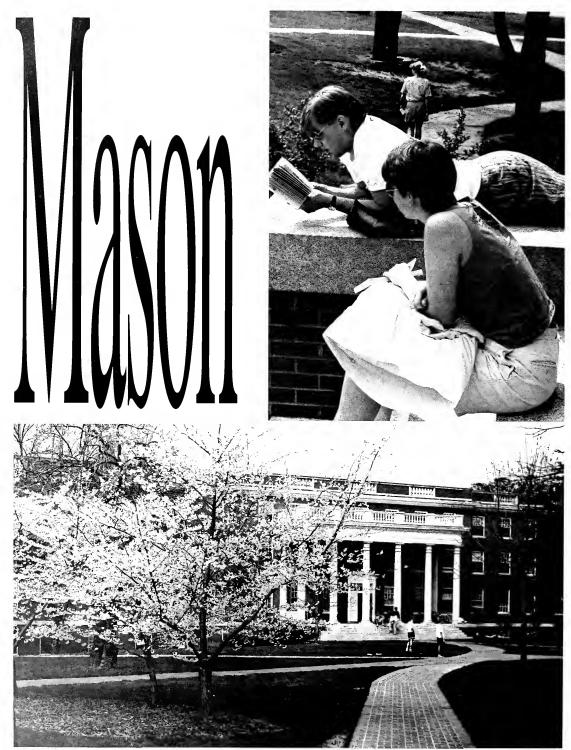

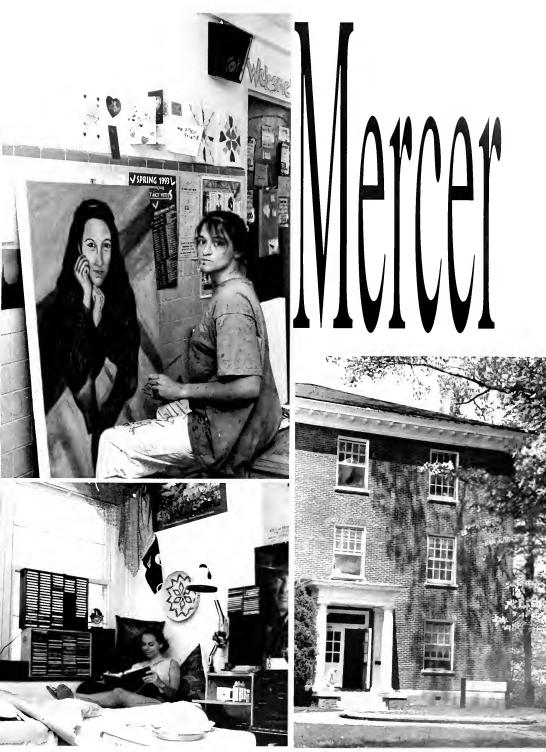

Dorms• 59

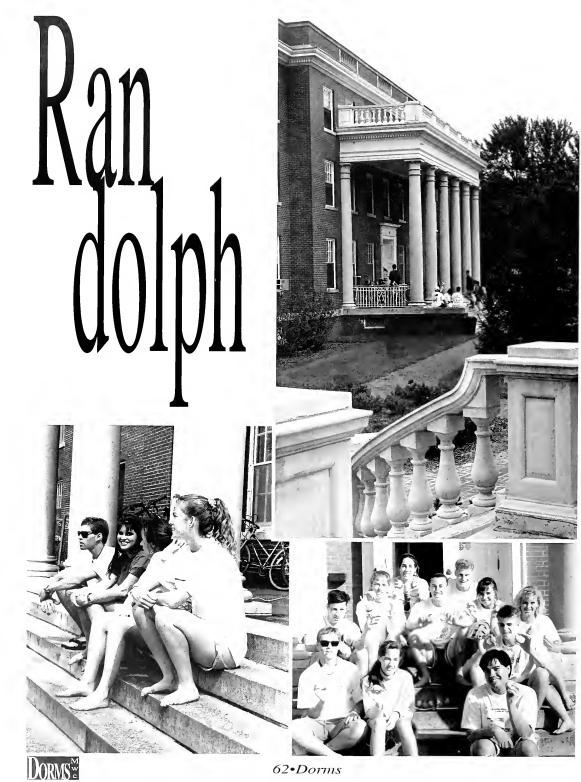

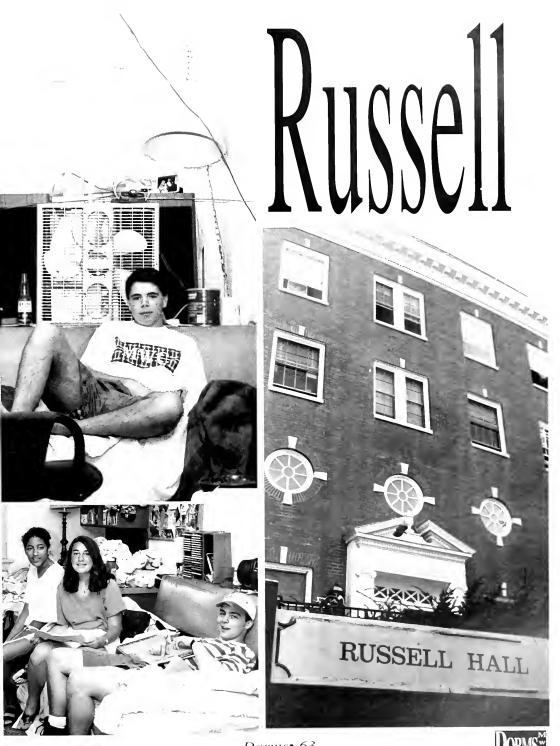

Dorms^{*}

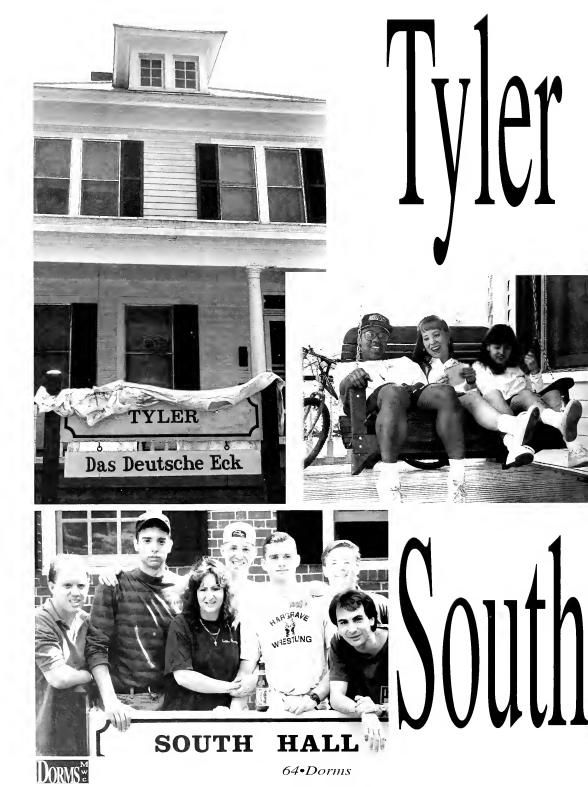

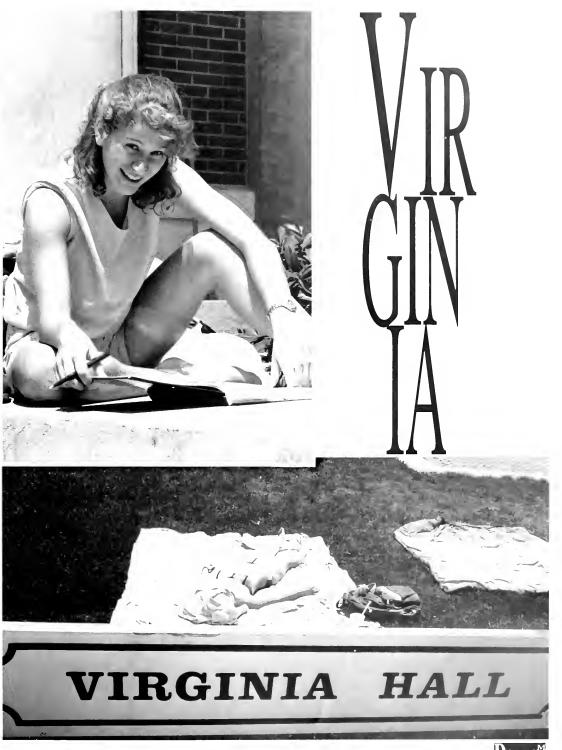

Dorms• 63

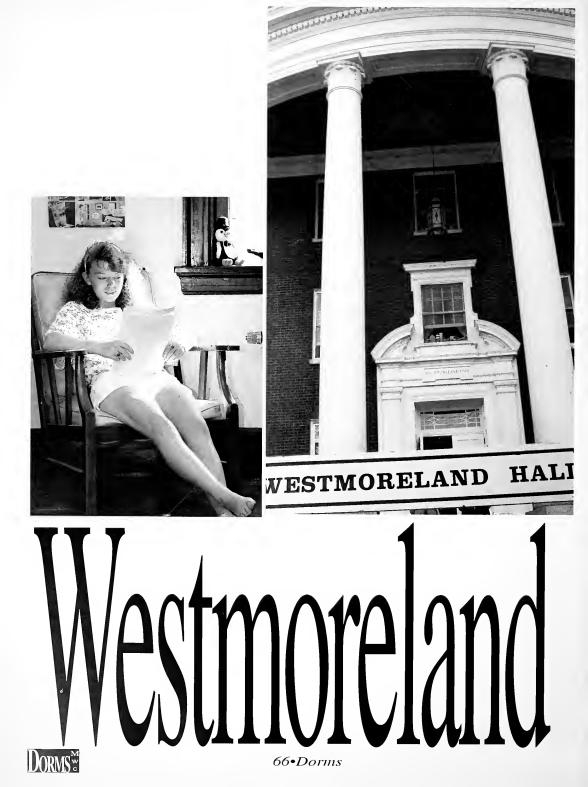

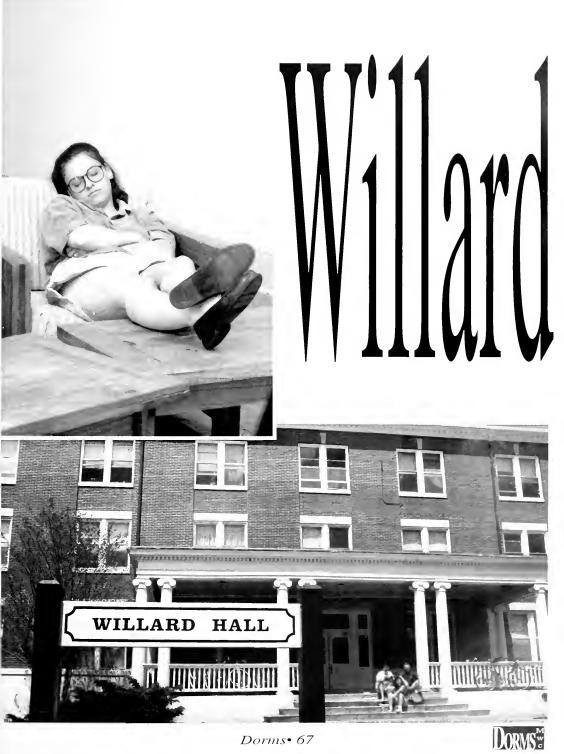

Dorms• 65

Dorms• 67

Class of 1993

Rachel T. Abrajano International Affairs French

"If I was the marrying kind..."

Donna K. Adams Psychology

Marna M. Albanese International Affairs

Amy S. Alderman Geography

Cristopher L. Alexandrow Psychology

Leigh E. Allcut French

Jennifer M. Almy Mathematics

Paul Sargent, Eric Stohr, Jay Radshaw, and Pat Fines, members of the men's rugby club, were champions when it came to bonding and inebriating the spirit.

Katie D. Anderson French

Sara K. Anderson International Affairs

MARY WASHINGTON

John C. Anstey English

Katherine H. Ashby English

Look Mom, We've got our own brew now. Mike Weil and Meredith Wehmann proudly display their contributions to 100th night.

Photo by Mike Woodward

Michael A. Aspiotis Environmental Earth Science

Gabrielle A. Avres Psychology

Sharon M. Baggett Biology

> Stacey R. Bailey Physics

Louis Baksa, Jr. Business Administration

> Lela J. Baldwin History

Stephanie D. Bamberger Business Administration

"B.Y.O.B."

Harold C. Bame English

Julia C. Barron International Affairs

Ferdinand T. Basilio Biology

William A. Basye Buisness Administration

Elizabeth J. Bauer Economics

Felicia M. Baxter Biology

Jonathan J. Beam Psychology

Roger Viadero dares to question the actions of his classmates. Everyone was wild this night . . . no exceptions.

Paige L. Beaman Psychology

Shannon L. Beasley Psychology and Religion

MARY WASHINGTON

Cheryl A. Bennett Child Development

Geneva W. Bennett English

Matt Bolen, Rick Downer, Jason Magi, and Warren Fischi gather for their last photo opportunity before drinking themselves into oblivion.

Thoto by Mike Illoodward

Marla J. Bennett International Affairs

Kirsten A. Bensten Business Administration

Karen Y. Berry Business Administration

Katrina R. Berry Business Administration

> Amanda L. Betz Biology

Kristina M. Bielak Environmental Earth Science

Jerry W. Blankenship, Jr. Biology

"Can't we all just get along?"

Seniors • 73

Mary Jane Bohlen Studio Art

"Too close for comfort?"

Janelle A. Bolden Biology

Lori F. Bolyard Psychology

Michael S. Boros Business Adiministration

Michael S. Bott Geography

Elizabeth R. Bowen Sociology

Elizabeth A. Bowker Psychology

Seton Motley and Jennifer White share a private moment . . . with all of MWC! Surprise, guys.

Scott B. Bradbury Psychology

Dana M. Bradley Art History Photo by Mike Woodward

MARY WASHINGTON

Paul B. Brasler English

Erin M. Brick English

John T. enjoys a triumphant moment with Christy Eglevsky on one arm and Kristen Adler on the other.

"Pucker up"

MARY WASHINGTON

Photo by Anne Stitt

-Amy M. Bridges Psychology

Margaret A. Bridges History

Sally M. Brocksen Political Science

Kimberly R. Brooke English

Inger L. Brown Historic Preservation

Kimberly A. Brown Psychology

Shaaron E. Brown Biology

Christine R. Bucher Chemistry

"Whoa, listen to this"

Tammy L. Buhite Mathematics

Karin A. Bulova Economics

Jill C. Bunch Mathematics

Amy R. Burris Mathematics

Susan D. Cabaniss English

Jason A. Caddell English

John Anstey and Andrew Salp, along with 2000 others who made it out to see him speak, listen attentively to President Bush campaigning his way through Fredericksburg.

Alison D. Cannington Psychology

James W. Cantrall International Affairs

MARY WASHINGTON

Susan M. Carlson Hisoric Preservation

Jenuiter L. Carroll Studio Art

Are Bethany Zecher, Nikki Dunnivan, and Stacey McInereney in this position because they want to be, or because 100th night has gotten the best of them?

"Triples"

Those by Mike Woodward

Tracy A. Carter International Affairs

Laura A. Cavallini Business Administration

> Keith R. Cavedo English

William Cerelli, III Political Science

Robert C. Cerullo History

Martha F. Chapman Chemistry

> Lisa D. Chinn Psychology

Seniors • 77

"What does that taste like?"

Peter G. Chirico Geography

Selena S. Chon History

Christine H. Cizek Psychology

Hunter R. Clark Political Science

David L. Clayton Economics English

Karen J. Clendenin Psychology

Jennifer D. Cochran Business Administration

Amy K. Cole Historic Preservation

Brian Sullivan and Melanie Haynie show that it is possible to kiss and laugh at the same time.

Michelle M. Collette Historic Preservation

Russell J. Collin Buisness Administration Photo by Mike Woodward

MARY WASHINGTON

MARY WASHINGTON

Nancy L. Columbia Economics

Pete Chirico lets loose, or so it seems, at the Brass Rail.

Photo by Adam Owings

Sharon H. Conway English

> Sarah C. Cooke English

Lydia A. Cordes History Classics

Stephen P. Covert Spanish Geography

> Sarah E. Cox English

Alanda E. Crawford Geography

Jane M. Crisler Historic Preservation

> Tisha L. Custis Psychology

Emily M. Cyr English

Seniors • 79

"Get crazy"

Cathleen L. D'Araujo Political Science

Anthony G. Dallman Physics

Diane R. Dansby Psychology

Eric M. Dawson Philosophy

Jerri S. DeHart Sociology

Michelle Deline English

Jon-Eric Dentz Political Science

Amy E. Poe Derrickson Biology

"Say cheese"

Paul Sargent roots through cheese at a local grocery store. What does this say about Paul's social life?

Christopher R. Derrickson Biology

Allyson M. Dieck Special

Photo by Mike Woodward

Lisa K. Diggs American Studies

Jennifer L. Dittamo Music

Melissa Grady explains the art and form of drinking to Rob Tewels.

Thet by Mike II's durand

Holly A. Dittmar Studio Art

Brian M. Donaghy Political Science

Rebecca L. Dotson History

> John J. Doyle Spanish

Anne P. Dressler Economies

William R. Driscoff Economics

Jo Beth Dryer Business Administration

"Oh no!"

Amy K. Duchemin French

"Two times the fun"

Ann Lee Dulevitz Historic Preservation

Kelly S. Duncan Psychology

Mary T. Duncan Classics

Kristina M. Dunn History

Cindy A. Dunnavant Economics

Necole A. Dunnivan Economics

Photo by Mike Woodward

MARY WASHINGTON

pose for a a shot at 100th night.

Debbie Newell and Nikki Dunnivan

Timothy K. Dwyer English

Cristy D. Eglevsky Business Administration

Karri L. Ellis Business Administration

> lan E. Ellsworth Psychology

Jon-Eric Dentz, Steve Maher, and Neil Gallagher contemplate their options for the evening.

Photo by Art speyer

Jarrod A. Epps History

Justine L. Essig German

Steven L. Fahrenkrog, II Mathematics

> Teresa D. Farr Mathematics

Denise E. Finch Computer Science

> Patrick D. Fines Economics

"Can we sell you a used car?"

Ellen M. Fink Biology

Emily L. Firkin Business Administration

"Want a drink?"

Warren R. Fischi Economics

Jonathan K. Fish International Affairs

John B. Fisher History

Julia E. Fisher Business Administration

Lorilyn M. Fitzgerald Psychology

Blythe A. Fitzharris Psychology

Erin Stephens, standing with Shannon Beasley and Angie Parker, shows off her 100th night trophy... the blue beast.

Chriselda N. Fleming Psychology

Michael P. Flynn Political Science

84 • Semors

Eugenia S. Freed English

Carl B. Frye, Jr. Business Administration

Kristen Adler, Julie Barron, Leigh Allcut, and Christy Eglevsky crowd together during 100th night.

Thoto by Mike Woodward

Christine Fullin Psychology

Cassia K. Funk Business Administration

> Elizabeth A. Fusek Biology

Neil J. Gallagher, Jr. Economics

Christie L. Gardner International Affairs

> John R. Garman Physics

"Aren't you glad you used Dial?"

Heather W. Gebbja History

MARY WASHINGTON

James E. Gibson Business Administration

" 'Home Alone' flashbacks "

Christine B. Gilligan American Studies

K. Hope Glass English

Kimberley D. Glenn Philosophy

Christopher Glover Historic Preservation

Marrisa L. Goldsmith Political Science

Charlene E. Gomes English

Laura S. Graham History

Christopher N. Granger History

MARY WASHINGTON

86 • Semors

MARY WASHINGTON

Julia E. Grassler Biology

Jennifer S. Greene English

Amy Mumpower explains the mysteries of life to Mike Haller.

Thoto by Mike Woodward

Harriet W. Greenlee Religion

Mary V. Greyer Business Administration

> Allison K. Griffin Biology

Michael S. Guerriero History

> Alan F. Hall English

Whitney E. Hall Historic Preservation

"Now wait a minute!"

Michael A. Haller Business Administration

88 • Seniors

Mathematics

Psychology

Tara K. Heaney American Studies

Kelley T. Helmstutler Art History

Heather Jacobs talk with other Fredericksburg residents after a City Council meeting

Student Association President Devon Williams and Legislatinve Action Commitee Chairperson

> Elizabeth L. Hensley Biology

Carolyn C. Herndon Geography

Valerie L. Hibbard Computer Science

Mary A. Hight Business Administration

> James P. Hilbert History

Jennifer M. Hileman American Studies

Tracy Y. Hilts Business Administration

> Robert M. Himmel Philosophy

> > Kristin B.Hodes Philosophy Classics

Sandra Hoehne Classics/Italian

Allison Hight and Adam Owings share a hug at 100th Night.

Photo by Mike Woodward

Wendy A. Hoffman Compter Science

Julie A. Holland Studio Art

Rachel A. Holland Economics

Jacqueline S. Horsley English

Krista M. Houser Mathematics

Lisa K. Howard Anthropology

Ami A. Hunt Chemistry

Patrick L. Hurlbert Business Administration

Regina M. Hutchinson English

Talia J. Inbar Spanish

Signs announced one of the last senior class parties and the new four beer maximum. Several stundents feel the new policy dampered the evenings attendance.

Photo by Mike Woodward

Chris R. Jacobs History

Amy C. Jarvis English

Bernard J. Johnson Business Administration

> Elizabeth B. Johnson English

Kimberly J. Johnson Political Science

> Laura E. Johnson Biology Chemistry

Paula L. Johnson Business Administration

Sherrice L. Johnson Business Administration

> Heather L. Johnston Chemistry

> > Christina L. Jones Dance

Keith Park and Warren Fischi put a good spell on the photographer at Holloweens.

Photo by Mike Woodward

Joyce A. Jones Biology

Clifford A. Jordan Geography

Christina L. Joubran

April M. Jurgins Political Science

English

Laura A. Kasley Environmental Earth Science

Katherine L. Keeling Biology

Royce B. Kemp Environmental Earth Science Geography

Jennifer L. Keller Psychology

Robert H. Kelly Business Administration

92 • Seniors

Clair McNulty, Leigh Allcut, and Monte Montgomery take advantage of one of the last photo oportunities.

Photo by Mike Woodzeard

Romayne M. Ketcha Psychology

> Laura A. King Psychology

Jennifer L. Kistler Biology

Janice L. Kneessi Religion

Krista J. Koretzski International Affairs

> Lesley E. Krush Mathematics

Timothy F. Landis American Studies

Gui-hera L. Lang Chemistry Math

Bradford G. Lanspery Political Science

Evans A. Laroche, III English

Best friends Kelly Helmstutler, Deveon Williams and Lori Rose celebrate their friendship and their last days as Seniors at 193rd Night.

Photo by Mike Woodward

Amy K. Larsen English

Kirsten D. Larson Psychology

Sara E. Larson Psychology

Teresa L. Lecky Mathematics

Peter B. Lee Business Administration

Soo M. Lee International Affairs Business Administration

Jennifer R. Lentz Economics

Joshua E. Lontz Geography

Robert C. Lunger Drama

MARY WASHINGTON

Timothy H. Madden History

Kimberly G. Madison Mathematics Computer Science

Jason R. Magi Business Administration

> Elizabeth A. Magnus Environmental Earth Science

Brendan M. Mahoney Music

Robert W. Major, II Geography

David M. Maloney Business Administration

> Meghan E. Maloney Historic Preservation

> > Jennifer H. Malos Physics

Denise D. Mangini Spanish

Janice L. Marker Mathematics

MARY WASHINGTON

Janet E. Marshall English

Lovelene M. Martin Economics Business Administration

Sandra L. McCaffity Classics

Martin C. McConagha Economics Business Administration

Lance C. McDonald Geography

John R. McDonald, Jr. Religion Psychology

Maura A. McGee International Affairs

Stacy L. McInerney Psychology

Shane K. McIntyre Computer Science

Jessamy M. McKay Psychology

96 • Seniors

Senior Matt Mejia spends some time in the Goolrick pool.

Thoto by Art Speyer

Shannon K. McKenna Historic Preservation

Martha A. McMullen English

Virginia C. McNulty Psychology

> Matthew E. Mejia Geography

Angela M. Melia Biology

Melissa L. Miles Biology

Karen B. Miller American Studies

> Karen E. Miller English

Christine D. Milner Mathematics

MARY WASHINGTON

Monte P. Montgomery, Jr. History

Kimberley E. Moore Biology

Jennifer C. Moravek History

Kirsti E. Morin History

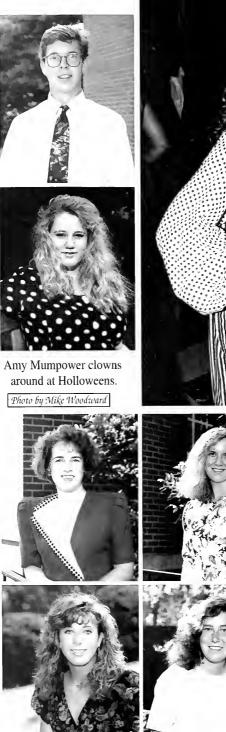

Mary E. Motley Anthropology

Eileen M. Mueller Geography

Kathleen M. Mulvaney Historic Preservation

Amy R. Mumpower Economics

Allison L. Murdock History

Terrence J. Murphy Business Administration

> Krystal M. Myers Computer Science

Barbara G. Nelson English

Cheryl M. Nelson English

Greta M. Nelson Biology

Laura L. Newberry Anthropology

C. Diane Newcomb English Business Administration

> Deborah M. Newell American Studies

Amy B. Newland Business Administration

> Mark A. Newman Political Science

Michael J. Newman Political Science

Rebecca T. Nichols French English

Ronald J. Noonan International Affairs

Sherri L. O'Bryan Chemistry

Bernard J. O'Donnell, Jr. English

Ngozi M. A. Obi Biology

Sara E. Ohlidal Geography

Katherine M. Opiela Political Science

Virginia A. Orme Psychology

Jay R. Ostrander Business Administration

Nancy E. Overbey Psychology

Theresa R. Overstreet Biology

The African Dance Troupe performed in Dodd Auditorium.

Photo bu Thema, Par

Adam S. Owings English

Keith B. Park Business Administration

> Lori A. Parrish Psychology

Jane C. Partridge Sociology

Marites D. Pasco International Affairs

Rebekah K. Pathirana French

> Marlana C. Patton English

Roberta M. Payne Geography

Kimberly T. Pearson Classics

Tem Keim and John Richmond discuss the meaning of life on Marye's Heights.

Rebecca L. Perry English

Tamara L. Pfile Psychology

Barbara J. Pike French Geography

Andrea L. Pleszkoch English

Melissa A. Pollard Business Administration

Caroline T. Porter English

Christopher S. Powell Physics

James C. Powell Geography

Kimberly T. Price Business Administration

Cynthia L. Pritchett History

102 • Seniors

Students throw snow balls, and each other as Fredericksburg gets hit with eight inches of snow the week after spring break.

Photo by Kim Stoker

Melissa A, Pullin Psychology

> John G. Puterio Psychology

Robert W. Puterio Political Science

John J. Radshaw, III International Affairs

Nicole A. Rager Historic Preservation

> Leslie A. Rakes Psychology

Wendy L. Ralph American Studies

Alisa D. Ramirez Geography

Andrew R. Ramsey International Affairs

> Janice E. Randow Geography

Civil War re-enactors march in downtown Fredericksburg.

Deena L. Rannazzisi American Studies

Marianne Redmond Psychology

Tamalyn R. Reed Economics

Ayvonne V. Reese Spanish

Timothy A. Rice Geography

Shannon M. Richard Chemistry

John C. Richmond Political Science Geography

Jennifer A. Riordan Mathematics Physics

Elizabeth K. Rickmon Political Science

Todd M. Ritter Political Science

Lisa C. Roark Political Science

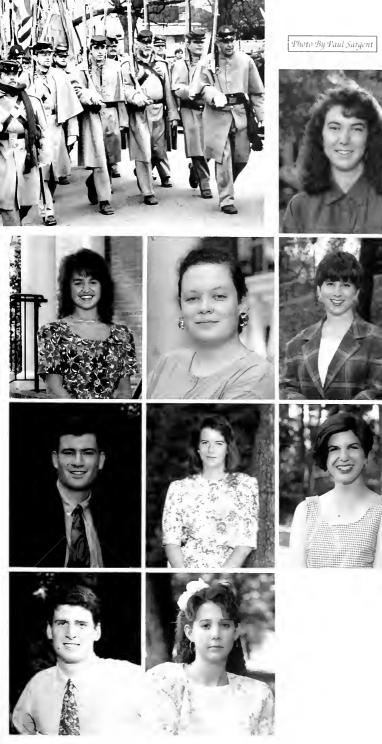

Cheryl L. Roberts History

Theresa M. Roberts Business Administration

> Kara D. Rockwell History

> > Lori A. Rose Art History

Jared A. Rosenquist Environmental Earth Science

> Cynthis Rush History

Alyson J. Saimeca Political Science

> Paul D. Sargent History

Lisa M. Schaub Business Administration

MARY WASHINGTON

Seniors • 105

Photo By Kim Stoker

Monica L. Schmalhofer Geography

Robert A. Schmitt Business Administration

Christina M. Schrag History

Susan K. Schurman International Affairs Spanish

Kellie J. Scott History

Kimberly A. Seate Biology

J. Kent Secker Business Administration

Jennifer N. Self Business Administration

Tracy L. Sexton International Affairs

Susan M. Shackelford Business Administration

106 • Seniors

The construction of the newest dorm next to Alvey forced a detour off campus walk.

Jennifer P. Sheffield Art History

Douglas A. Sheldon American Studies

> Kristin E. Shoaf Spanish

Suzanne E. Sierra American Studies

Robert M. Sihler, Jr. English

> Azniv T. Singh Art History

Tiffani D. Sisk Economics

Robert A. Skinner Business Administration

Richard R. Slagle Business Administration

Charles T. Smith, III Business Administration

Jody M. Smith History

Karen L. Smith Environmental Earth Science

Shannon L. Smith Psychology

Tara R. Smith English

Arthur L. Speyer, III Political Science

Sarah S. Stack History

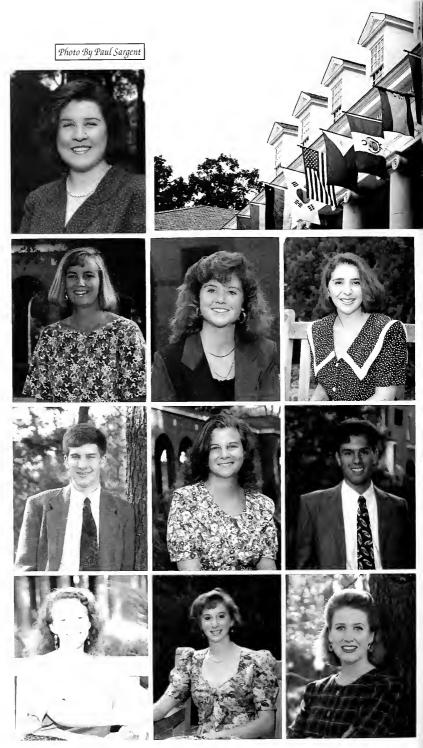

Timothy J. Staehling, Jr. Geography

Tari K. Stage Drama Religion

Kate E. Stainer International Affairs

Lori A. Stephens American Studies

108 • Seniors

Ann Carter Lee Hall proudly displays several nations flags as a symbol of MWCs goal of diversity.

Erin O. Stevens English

Lauren E. Strawbridge Sociology

> Stasia A. Streit History

Jenifer L. Studt History

Jean B. Sudlow American Studies

Brian M. Sullivan Psychology

Catherine L. Swain Biology

Carol A. Swindell History

Niloufar Tavassoli Mathematics

> Dodd H. Terry History

MARY WASHINGTON

Seniors • 109

Photo By Thomas Park

Jennifer M. Thomas Chemistry

Michelle L. Thomas Political Science

Laura K. Thomson Anthropology

Julia L. Tillar Biology

Bridgette J. Timko Business Administration

Courtney E. Tolman English

Opal M. Tomalewski Biology

Jeffrey D. Torrence Drama

Richard E. Treger, Il Business Administration

mm

TITILATI

110 • Seniors

MARY WASHINGTON

Some students gather on campus walk on a nice fall day.

Brenda C. Tucker Music

Derek R. Tucker Biology

Jennifer P. Turney Political Science

James C. Underwood Business Administration

> Marian M. Uzzalino International Affairs

> Lisa A. Van Guilder Biology

> > Denise L. Vernon English Art History

Renee L. Vitale Business Administration

Patricia L. Washington English

Alyssa R. Watkins Biology

Elizabeth N. Watson Dance

Richard P. Watson French

Colette Y. Webb Business Administration

Amy R. Weddle Psychology

Meredith M. Wehmann Psychology

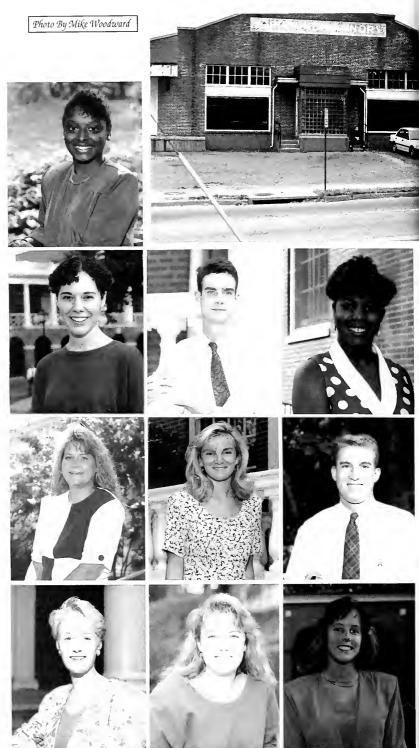

Michael W. Weil Geography

Tama N. Welch Psychology

Lindsey C. Weller Biology

Jennifer White Business Administration

112 • Seniors

The Sunshine Laundry, accross Sunken Road, was purchased for demolition and erection of a new parking lot.

Tammy J. White Biology

Heather A. Wickstrom American Studies

> P. Erik Wilke English

Angela M. Williams Dance

David M. Williams Business Administration

> Devon A. Williams Political Science

Jennifer L. Williams International Affairs

Jennifer L. Williams Psychology

John T. Williams, Jr. Business Administration

Megan L. Williams Business Administration

Seniors • 113

Stephen M. Williams Geography

"All work and no play"

Angela Y. Willis Business Administration

Matthew S. Wilson Computer Science Math

Rodney D. Wilson Historic Preservation

Eric M. Winter History

Amy D. Wisnosky Sociology

Kirstin L. Wolverton International Affairs German

Kirsti Morin slaves away her last year at MWC. Student teaching was very difficult but also very enjoyable for this aspiring young teacher.

Jennifer L. Woodard Biology

Michelle A. Woodward Business Administration

Amy L. Wray Historic Preservation

Stacey McInerney and Debbie Newell share a drink, a photo opportunity, and 100th night.

Photo by Kim Stoker

Heather L. Yaeck Sociology

Ryan A. Young Business Administration

> Tonya J. Young German

Tracy J. Young Business Administration Psychology

> Bethany Zecher History

Jennifer L. Zierden

Psychology

"Bosom buddies"

MARY WASHINGTON

CLUBS

Anthropology Club

The Anthropology Club was an organization that aimed at expanding the learning experience beyond the classroom and to spread an interest in anthropological activities. Our activities included field trips to museums to view exhibits of anthropological interest, the acquisition of guest speakers in this field who shared with us their work and experiences, trips to ethnic restaurants, and annual anthropological theme parties. Future plans included working in Old Town Fredericksburg at various archaeological sites and graduate panels for students to talk with people who have graduated with Anthropology degrees. The majority of the members were Anthropology majors, but EVERYONE with even a slight interest in anthropology was more than welcome to join.

Written by Kristi Noel

118 • Clubs

Asian Student Association by Ira Wisnumurti

A club created a few years ago, the Asian Student Association devoted itself to introducing Mary Washington College students to various aspects of Asia as a continent and a conglomerate of cultures, ways of life, ideologies, and socioeconomic backgrounds. As the number of its members (Asians as well as non-Asians) gradually expanded, the club continued its pursuit in uniting people from various ethnic backgrounds with the sole interest of broadening people's views and knowledge about Asia, covering the extensive geographical area, covering the Far East (Japan, Korea, China, Vietnam, etc.), South Asia (India, Pakistan, etc.) as well as Middle Eastern countries. The club engaged itself in activities of all sorts. Two years ago, the club arranged a trip to Washington, D.C. to see a play: "Shogun." Various guest speakers sponsored by the club have come to the college. For example, last year, a diplomat from the Indonesian Embassy in Washington, D.C. came to speak about various aspects of Indonesia and its bilateral relations with the United States and early in the Fall semester this year, Professor Kawaguchi from the A Ichi Prefecture University in Nagoya, Japan, came to speak about a possible student exchange program. The club also organized various picnics and dinners (such as a Chinese buffet and an Indian dinner in Richmond), as well as cultural events such as a trip to the Smithsonian to see a Japanese Art exhibit and a Korean Dance and Music Recital. The club even organized ski trips, such as a trip to North Carolina, two years ago. Upcoming events for the Fall Semester include the possibility of forming a self-defense class open for all interested students and more active involvement in community services. The club is slowly expanding and intends to organize more activities for the coming year. Everyone's welcome to join!

Clubs • 119

Clubs

Aubade

By Mike Woodward & Liz Hockmuth

Liz Hockmuth, Queen of the Aubade, led the Mary Washington Review of Arts and Literature for her third year. Leading a band of renegade caffeine loving elitist critical dilettante, Liz plans to continue her reign next year and is hoping to avoid decapitation at the end of her reign. Above all else, the Aubade prides itself on its flyers and its sense of humor.

Battlefield

by Mike Woodward

The Battlefield is dedicated to capturing the events of the year. This year Paul Sargent feels he can definitely get the book out on time. NOT. The Battlefield editors are also member of the Board of Publications, and hence have a say in all publications on campus.

Adam Fike, Paul Sargent and Anne Stitt argue over cover art for the '93 book. Paul won.

Clubs • 121

Bio Club By Michelle Hollett

The Biology Club was an organization open to both majors and non-majors, for the purpose of promoting an interest in biology. The members were active fund-raisers. This year's projects included sponsoring a Saturday car wash, making and selling refrigerator magnets, and selling pumpkins for Halloween. The club planned to use the money it raised to take trips to places of interest to its members such as the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, the National Zoo in D.C., and the Aquarium in Baltimore. The club also showed biology-related films, had an annual picnic, and hoped to sponsor guest speakers.

The purpose of the Black Student Association is to serve as a support mechanism. While its primary goal is the unification of the Black student population, the association also serves as an information resource center which promotes and enhances Black culture, while facilitating communication and understanding within the membership concerning Black issues.

This year, the BSA sponsored the Black Alumni Reception, the annual Semi-formal dance, events during Black History month, served as a co-sponsor with other organizations for various events, and assisted the Admissions office concerning the retention and recruitment of Black students.

By Tomaudrie Rudd

The Mary Washington Bullet is the college's weekly student newspaper. With a staff of approximately 40 writers, editors, photoghaphers as well as advertising managers and deigners, the Bullet covered MWC news, features, sports and entertainment. This year, we also covered community events which affected Mary Washington Students as well as show the Bullet to Fredericksburg residents by distributing it at the Rappahanock Regional Library, Giant and Food Lion.

This year, the Bullet added "Award Winning" to our masthead because we were recognized as a Gold Medalist in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for being in the top fifteenth of student newspapers nationwide.

The seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen averaged 80 hours each week writing stories, making phone calls and doing lay-out. Thanks to all these people for helping to get the news to the Mary Washington community every week.

Sunday Night at the Bullet Office was a mad dash rush to make the deadline, and have a little fun to boot. The Campus Christian Community was a Christian interdenominational campus community which supported and challenged individuals as they sought to grow in their relationship with God. Programs focused on fellowship with God, spiritual nurture, fellowship with friends, Bible study, and services. Weekly programs included Table Talk, Faithful Friends: a community Bible study, Fireside Chat and Frivolous Friday. Table Talk included dinner and a program on issues concerning life as a student. Faithful Friends was a chance to be a part of an honest discussion about God, faith and life, while Fireside Chat was a time to listen, share with other students, and discuss topics ranging from campus concern to social, political or religious issues. Frivolous Friday was a time to get together with friends to relax, have a mocktail, or watch a movie. The Campus Christian Community was an open community welcoming all religious backgrounds.

Clubs

Citizens of fue World Club at Mary Washington was an organization that promoted an awareness and appreciation of cultural diversity. Our activities were directed towards the education and exposure of the college community to new and enriching experiences. We assisted international students and sought to provide an atmosphere where their thoughts and concerns could be expressed. Our members came from all over the world. They included students, faculty, and community members.

Anyone who was interested in planning, organizing, decorating, fundraising, or socializing was welcome to join and participate in the Citizens of the World Club. We met every other Wednesday in Lee Hall to plan activities or discuss topics of interest. Dues of five dollars were collected from our new members and went towards our activities.

The best way to experience a new culture is through its music, food, language, history and art. We were an organization which explored these possibilities. Activities included participating in the Multicultural Fair, trips to Washington for food and entertainment, designing and selling T-shirts, and celebrating the holiday season and the graduation of seniors.

126 • Clubs

C.O.A.R. By Diane Newcomb

COAR's mission states that "COAR is a diverse group of students serving the community's needs through an active exchange of service and learning, while continually striving to find solutions to problems that challenge the community." To carry out this mission, COAR worked with approximately 50 agencies in the Fredricksburg area to match college volunteers with opportunities in the community. In addition to these positions, a COAR Council consisted of 20 student who ran their own programs and staffed the office during the week. COAR programs included Elderly. Mentally/ Physically Challenged, Kid's Recreation, Adult Literacy, English as a second Language. Fredricksburg Community Youth Theater Group, and REACH tutoring.

Founded in 1990, COAR has involved 15% of the student population each year. and accumulated approximately 13,000 volunteer hours over the past two years. As COAR continues to grow, we hope to make a difference in the Fredericksburg community and the world around us.

The Catholic Student Association enabled students to take one step closer to God. Through many activities we continued on our journey through Christ growing in love with every step.

Through the CSA students could discover what Catholicism is all about. Retreats, Bible study, Fellowship and mass enabled us to learn how to see the true meaning of Christianity.

Volunteer opportunities were abundant. Weekly visits to the Hope House and nursing homes allowed students to reach out to the community. Different service projects such as CROP walk, Harvest of Hope, Habitat for Humanity, Catholic Worker House, Experience in Mexico, and Haiti Outreach taught us to reach out to other communities and go where we were needed. Pax Christi organized the students for many of these trips.

The CSA was a place were students could put into action what they believed. Through our organization, students could live the gospel instead of just reading it.

Executive

Clubs • 129

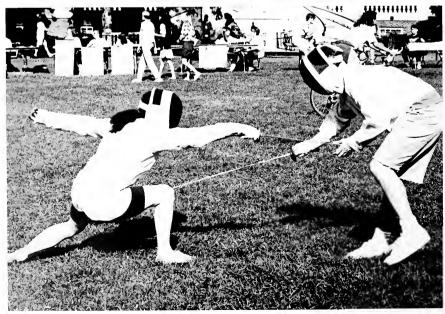

Fencing Club

We were the Mary Washington College Fencing Club. Our club was affiliated with the United States Fencing Association (USFA), and was part of the Virginia division. Our purpose was to teach and promote the sport of fencing. This year the USFA granted us two tournaments. The first, a director's clinic and novice tournament, took place over the weekend of October 17. The second, a divisional open, was scheduled for the weekend of January 16. We met every Thursday and Sunday nights at 7 p.m. in the Underground.

By Emily Weed

130 • Clubs

The German Club was busy during the 1992-93 academic year involving its members in various "German" activities. We started the year off with a cookout featuring German Bratwurst and Potato Salad. We also planned day trips to Washington for German American Day and to Richmond for Oktoberfest. Other activities planned throughout the year included a Spring-time Easter egg coloring fest, pretzle baking fests, and two fundraisers where the club sold pretzles and St. Nikolaus stockings before Christmas break. "Stammtisch," the German conversation hour was held every Thursday evening in the German House; German movies with English subtitles often followed "Stammtisch". The club also invited children from the community to trick-or-treat at the German house and sponsored a Thanksgiving dinner for the German professors. The club was not only open to students taking German courses at the college, but to anyone interested in the German language. history and culture.

By Tonya Young German Club Clubs

Clubs • 131

GLBSA By Jay Vanover

The Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual Student Association was dedicated to providing an open and positive atmosphere for gays, lesbians, bisexuals, and their heterosexual supporters. The group also worked towards educating the college community and general public about homosexuality and bisexuality, and the situation of homosexuals and bisexuals. The GLBSA sponsored bisexual, gay and lesbian awareness days (B-GLAD), published the Homophobia Report, and co-sponsored many events on and off campus. They also held weekly meetings and offered a confidential support group for people questioning their sexuality. GLBSA membership was open to anyone, regardless of their sexual orientation, who supported gay, lesbian, and bisexual rights and the equality of all people.

Hillel was an organization for Jewish students to meet other Jewish students and for non-Jews who were interested in learning about the Jewish religion and culture. Hillel had social events such as conoeing trips and dances with Hillel chapters from other universities, as well as services and religious programs. By

Jennifer Brown

Hillel Clubs • 133

Clubs

Hispanic Student By Verna Baragiola Association

The main purpose of the Hispanic Student Association was to provide support for Hispanics and instill a sense of community for Hispanics attending MWC. The club also aimed to increase pride and culture awareness among Hispanics by studying the diverse culture of other members.

The most important event was the celebration of Hispanic week in the beginning of October. Some activities included speakers, entertainers, a picnic, and a dance where some of the most popular Spanish dances were taught to the public.

The HSA participated in the annual Multicultural Fair by providing a booth with Hispanic crafts and pinatas for the kids. Some members of the club attended a conference in the spring. The HSA cosponsored many activities with other clubs and Multicultural Center. Of course the HSA also had many parties where Hispanic music was heard and traditional foods were eaten.

Preservation

The Historic Preservation Club strove to promote awareness and interest in historic preservation. The club sponsored many activities throughout the year, the most popular of which was the Ghostwalk, our Halloween tour of Fredericksburg's haunted sights. Our members participated in trips to historic sights, attended cultural events and speeches, and volunteered with local preservation organizations. Through these efforts, we hoped to spark a life long interest in the preservation of our cultural heritage, an issue of importance to us all.

By Whitney Hall

Honor Council was a judicial body designed to try specific cases brought to it regarding possible violations of the Honor Code. These violations of the Honor Code included lying, cheating, and stealing in all of their various forms. In addition to presiding over Honor trials, the Council also sponsored an annual awareness week to educate students about the Honor System and its organization.

The Honor Council consisted of a president and sixteen other members, four of whom were elected from each class. For the 1992-93 academic year, the members of the Honor Council were seniors Michelle Byrum, Keith Carroll, Stephen Covert and Brian Sullivan; juniors Dave Austin, Matt Ernst, Mike Powell and Tara Squires; sophomores Sooki Danosky, Courtney Jones, Aaron Straight and Kim Switzer; and freshmen Keia Brown, Brian Hollingsworth, Aaron Smith, and Courtney.

Intervarsity

The Intervarsity Christian Fellowship was an organization of believers who sought to learn more about the Lord Jesus Christ. The goals of Intervarsity were to strengthen those who were already Christians in their walk with Jesus and to help those who had the desire to know more about him.

We preserve those goals through fellowship meetings on Friday nights. small group Bible studies and prayer meetings. For large groups we had speakers from different churches and ministries come to share on specific topics of interest. Our small groups helped us to dig deeper into God's word and to learn more about God himself and how to live the Christian life. Also our weekly prayer meetings were for the purpose of praying for our world, our campus and our individual lives.

We welcomed anyone who had an interest in being a part of out fellowship as we continued to proclaim that Jesus Christ is Lord!

Jolly Co. By Jennifer Malos

Jolly Co. is an alcohol alternatives club which promoted playing games without the use of or need for alcohol. We played historical strategy games, such as Axis and Allies, Diplomacy, Supremacy, and Stratego; and we played role-playing games such as Dungeons and Dragons, Marvel Superheroes, Battletech, Rifts, Cthulu, and Torg, which allow you to become another person or thing for the duration of the game in order to solve a mystery and complete a quest. Every year we sponsor a trip to the Maryland Renaissance Festival so anyone interested can experience the medieval times and a little live-action role-playing while they are having fun eating, drinking, shopping, and watching the shows. Jolly Co. also helped the French House with its annual fundraiser, Monte Carlo Night, by providing training for the dealers and extra dealers from the club. In keeping with our love for games, we sponsored an Axis and Allies tournament for the whole campus to participate in and win prizes. We even taught anyone willing to learn the games. This was especially true of Bridge Night. Once a week, interested members came together to learn how to play the card game, Bridge. The Saturday that exams ended in May was one of our favorite times of year. That was when Stafford High School had its after prom party which ran from midnight until 4:30 a.m. Jolly Co. provided dealers and the equipment to run the casino area of the party where the students won (or lost) chips which they used to buy chances at winning prizes such as a car, a computer, a CD player, and other great stuff.

The Judicial Review Board was a group of 12 elected members and one elected Chairman. The purpose of the board was to review violations of the visitation policy, property damage, fire drill procedures, improper use of fire equipment, and improper conduct. In addition, the board heard appeals from Community Standards trials. Each case was handled on a personal basis after the accused student pleaded guilty or elected to have a trial. Sanctions were given accordingly if the student was found guilty. Elections for the Judicial Review Board were held each semester.

Judicial By Tracy Young Judicial Chairperson Review Board Clubs

Clubs • 139

The Performing Arts Club was designed to stimulate interest and participation in the performing arts. It was open to everyone who liked to preform, whether they were a major or not. PAC presented scenes around campus, worked with the 4-H on their "Share the Fun" activity, sold concessions for all of the main stage performances, and sponsored workshops on performing for the campus and the community.

By Erika Malos

Arts

The editors slaved night and day over the Polemic, and, thank God, it seemed like you appreciated it. We published four issues on the topics of feminism, racism, pop culture and sex. With the help of our large staff, we navigated a desktop publishing program for the first time. Highlights for this year included Amy's habit of erasing Nathan's pages, getting our page dimensions wrong for three straight issues, and the first Polemic party. We look forward to that point in the future when the only theme left for the Polemic will be "Bellybutton Lint". Thanks to our dilligent staff, our advisor, and all those who wrote for and read the Polemic.

Clubs • 141

Pre-Law Society

By Elizabeth Payne

The Pre-Law society is an organization for students interested in the study of law. The meetings provided information on applying to law schools, taking the LSAT's, and examining the many different fields of law.

questions We did:

Tori

Ask no

Amos (Pete Mealy), Drivin' N' Cryin' (Voodoo Piston), The Brand New Heavies (The Pharcyde), Toad the Wet Sprocket (Gin Blossoms), Screaming Trees (Poster Children, Pond).

111.

The plastic birthday cake ballerina dove into a vat of orange Jello as she inhaled toxic fumes of melting G. I. Joes, we all agree.

We also did: Dave Matthews Band, Tom DeLuca, Burma Jam (Jettison Charlie, Damn Near Red, KASH), Skunks (Damn Near Red, Elephant Boy), Walli Collins, Toshi Reagon (Judy Gorman), GoodGuys (Tunji, Funkaholics), Black Sheep, Phantom Rockers (KASH).

We all danced because we knew our father was inside. Free James Brown.

ERICAN

ନ

Senate Board

144 • Clubs

"Take nothing but pictures. Leave nothing but footprints. Kill nothing but time." These are the words which are printed on the back of the Trek t-shirts this year (1992-1993). and they are also the words to which the club adheres Trek Club is an outdoors club which was established three years ago to provide people with an opportunity to experience and appreciate all that nature has to offer In its short time of existence. club membership has climbed to approximately 100 students of all levels of skill and experience. Fellow Trekkers have enjoyed activities such as hiking, caving, white water rafting, canoeing and camping. Self-confidence, cooperation and "bonding" is stressed every year when club members do a ropes course. Another yearly popular activity is the paint gun war. New activities planned for this year and next year include night hikes, hiking with homeless kids, and hang gliding.

Clubs • 145

By Dana Glenn

WMWC

The never heard voices of Donna Silver and Jamie Wasseman.

${}_{\rm AM}WMWC_{540}$

College radio. Open-minded and free-spirited. The way it should be. For you. Exceed the recommended dosage. WMWC rocks the world.

146 • Clubs

The Young Democrats made a comeback from a defunct group to one of over 100 members. Their main emphasis was to campaign on campus and help with local campaign events. They provided campaign information, participated in on campus debates, went to see the presidential debate in Richmond and to see Bill Clinton in person, pamphleted local Fredericksburg neighborhoods, organized a march down William Street, manned the polls on election day, drove people to the area

Young polls, manned the phones at Andy Fox's headquarters, and were part of what the Free Lance Star called. "the realignment of Mary Washington College." In the spring they focused on the gubenatorial election. They were a vibrant and young group bent on democratic ideals.

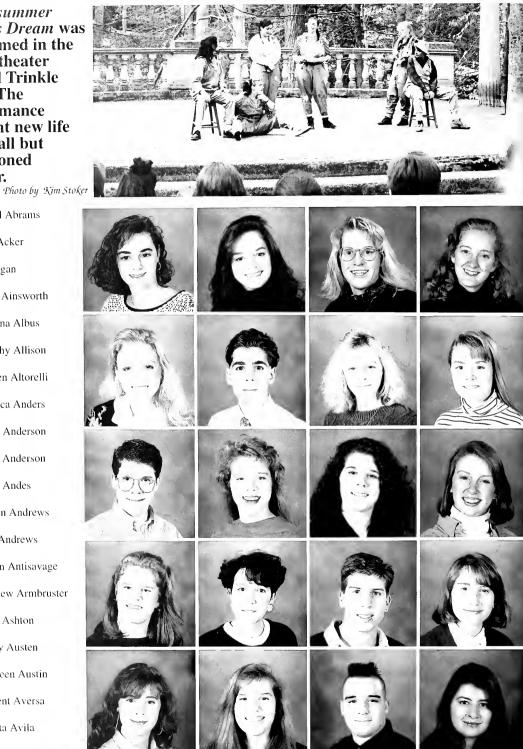

Democrats By Heather Mullins

Clubs • 147

A Midsummer Night's Dream was performed in the amphitheater behind Trinkle Hall. The performance brought new life to the all but abandoned theater.

150 • Underclass

Rachel Abrams

Amy Acker

Etta Agan

Alexa Ainsworth

Krystina Albus

Timothy Allison

Carmen Altorelli

Rebecca Anders

James Anderson

Susan Anderson

Susan Andes

Allison Andrews

Kate Andrews

Kristin Antisavage

Matthew Armbruster

Heidi Ashton

Nancy Austen

Kathleen Austin

Vincent Aversa

Juanita Avila

A scruffy Eric "Snuffy" Axelson ponders the good life here at MWC.

Catherine Barber Kerri Barile Kelly Barnes Deborah Barrett Alicia Bartol Dawn Baugher Susanne Beck Michelle Bedard Elizabeth Bennett Elizabeth Berman Cynthia Bernard Sara Bickford Stacy Birkenstock Dana Birkholz Linda Black

Halloweens brought strange bedfellows together in the Great Hall. Here Bush (Amy Leslie), Clinton (Elizabeth Payne) and Perot (Susan Taylor) spot a photo op.

> Lisa Blackley Heather Blake Amanda Blauvelt Elizabeth Booker Yolanda Booker Amanda Boshears James Bosley Derek Bottcher Ginni Bounds Stephanie Bowman Sharon Boxley Katie Braddock William Brantley Suzanna Braverman Sarah Brewer Daniel Brooks Deborah Brown Jennifer Brown Kiea Brown Michelle Brown

152 • Underclass

Bonnie Bullock Rose Burnley David Carey Meg Carey Steve Carhart Lisa Carlson

Hadrian Mendozza and Bill Monahan exploring their alternatives.

Photo by Anne Stitt

Barbara Broyles Andrew Brunt Tracey Bubb Taneesha Buck

Melanie Burger Michelle Burgess Edward Burke Emily Campbell Christopher Caputo Lanise Cardwell Siobhan Carlton Michael Carney Colleen Carpenter Natalie Carpenter

Photographer Brian Hollingsworth sneaks up on Amanda Tappan on the steps outside of Randolph Hall.

Joseph Cassady Jill Chamberlin Lisa Chastain Kong Chhour Mary Beth Childress Kenneth Chitty Alethea Christon Christopher Clark Peter Clark Samuel Clark Travis Clements Jeremy Cline Renee Cline Debra Coffee Wendy Coling Thomas Collier James Collins Caroline Columbia Roy Conley Jennifer Cooper

de

Lisa Blackley lounges leisurely outside her dorm Virginia "The Vault" Hall.

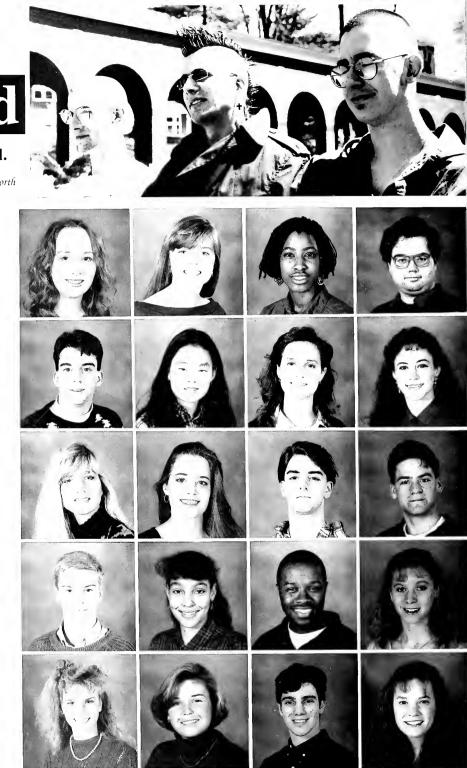

> Barbara Copp Lara Corcoran Jill Cordner James Cordone Ross Cornell Emily Costello Matt Covington Steve Craig Jennifer Crandall Andrew Crislip Valerie Crites Eric Cronin Kevin Crosby Kyle Crosby Carrie Crowder Tiffany Crowder Heather Cunningham Jeanne Curran Emily Curtis Tad Czyzewski

Bald

is beautiful.

Photo by Brian Hollingsworth

Jennifer Dalmas Sara Daly Regina Damon Eric Daniels Gary Daniels Sooki Danosky Keitha Dattilo Judith Davidow Kimberly Davis Caroline Dearborn Jeffrey DeBellis Jeffrey DeSanto Hendrik deVoest Stacy Dewalt JJ Dickens Tracey Dickerson Noelle Dienert Tracy Dillion John DiMeglio Betsy Divers

156 • Underclass

Kathleen Dooley Virginia Dore Anne Maria Doughty Chris Dove

> Frances Dove Kristen Dowdy Melissa Dowell Joanna Driver Priscilla Du Laura Duffey Mark Duffy Nick Duncan Kelly Dunn Kathleen Dunstan Kathleen Durham Jennifer Dyson Kristen Eberly Karen Edmison Beth Edwards Laura Edwards

Studying and sunbathing at the same time may or may not improve your grades, but it will get you a good tan.

Photo by Mike Woodward

Colleen Egan Shelley Ekermeyer Cvnthia Elliott Dana Embrey Susanna Engvall William Erb Cassandra Essig Anna Estep Martha Estes Allyson Eubank Lydia Evans Jeffrey Everett Naomi Fagan Alicia Faggart Elizabeth Fair Joseph Farrell Jeanette Feeley Cheryl Fenner Heidi Ferrell Chris Ferry

158 • Underclass

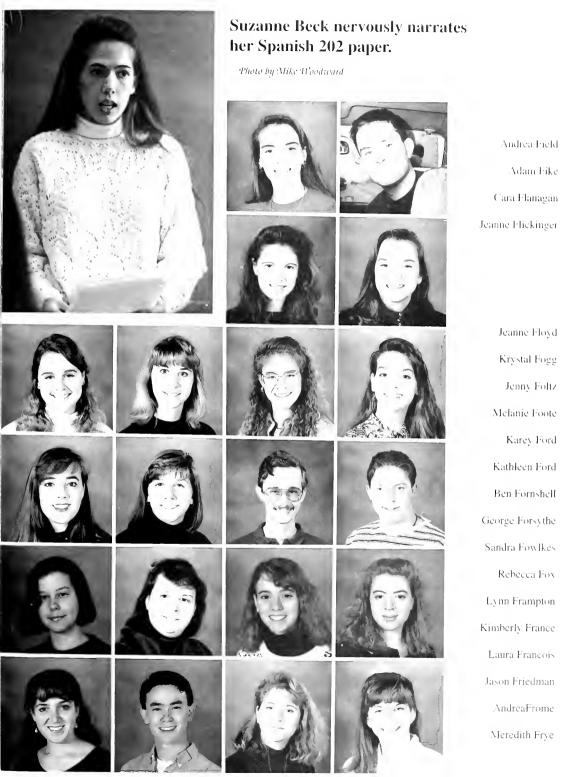

"Wer'e Feeling Just Vine!" Amy Faulkner, Nicole Pagano and Emily and Ellen Simpson bunch together for Holloweens.

Photo By Anne Stitt

Donald Gallitz Claudette Gamache Sarah Garcia Jenny Gardner Kathleen Gibby Priscilla Gibson Craig Gill Jennifer Gilligan Melissa Gillilan Nicole Girvin Kristen Gleason Dana Glenn Kate Glennon Kate Golden Melanie Goolsby Kerri Gordon Kimberly Gossett Edward Gramling Naomi Grav Kristen Green

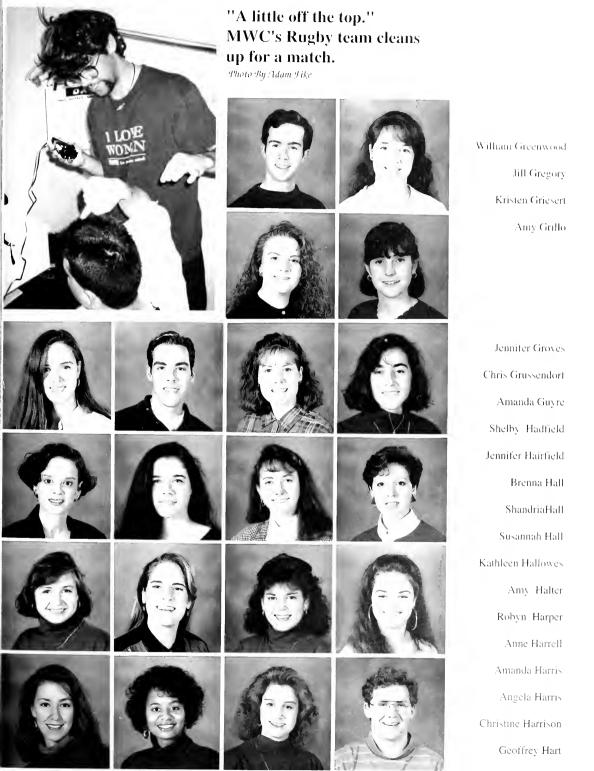

Brian Hollingsworth capturingthe shavedheads ofPhil Stoneman, Chris Wright andMike Taylor. Photo By Mike Woodward

Karen Hatwell Damien Haussling Christine Hayes Christopher Hayes Lawana Hayes Mary Hazlewood Eileen Heffern Michael Heinze Lydia Hellrich Gina Hernandez Deborah Herron Julie Heselden Jonathan Hickman Heidi Hildebrand Candice Hill Shelby Hill Tiffany Hill Jason Hillin

162 • Underclass

"I thought this was the drag show!?" Bill Monohan and Hadrian Mendoza were the queens of Holloween's. Photo By Anne Stitt

> Amy Hobart Lisa Hocko Debbie Hodges Derek Hoffman

Michelle Hollett Michelle Holley Brian Hollingsworth Holly Hollomon Michele Holtmann Molly Holton Stephanie Hooper Robert Hoover Jane Hope Anissa Hopkins Emilie Hopkins Alfred Horn Molly Horne Stephanie Howard Jennifer Howell Emily Howell

The LAC's pledge to vote sign collected hundreds of signatures of students for November 1992's Presidential Election.

Eliza Huber Maura Imparato Christopher Irving Eureka Jackson Sharon Jackson Wendy James Tiffany Jeffries Kristin Johnson Jodi Jones Deborah Johnson Heather Johnson Tia Johnson Courtney Jones Paula Jones Rebecca Jones Alan Jones Debrea Jordan Chrissy Kahrl Sarah Kanney Ann Kaplan

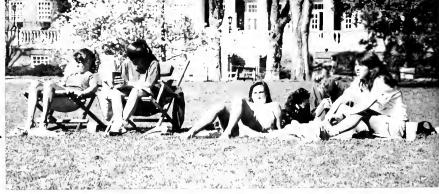

164 • Underclass

Warm Spring days find students outdoors. These girls in Ball Circle study while achieving the beginnings of a tan.

Photo By Mike Woodward

Deanna Knorpp Deborah Knowlton Kimberly Kobasa Jennifer Koch Christina Kopacz Jeffrey Kramer Barry Kraus Julie Kraus Tricia Kube JoAnna Kuehle Michelle Kurdonik Michelle Labbe Lynnett LaLonde Linh Lam Kelly Lambert Stephen Landis Sandra LaRocite Jennifer Lawatsch Christopher Lazzuri Wyland Leadbetter

Corey Lears Amy Beth Leasure Michelle Legg Rebecca LeJeune

Annie Lellinger Amy Leslie Stacey Levy Anne Lewis James Robert Lewis Anna Lindahl Jennifer Liptrap Susan Little John Lolovan Christine Lourens Stacy Lucas NI Luu Maureen Lynch Sean Lynch Stephanie MacDonald Rachel Machacek

FLASHBACK! Tim Lutero models the revolving 60's TY-DYE trend.

Photo by Brian Hollingsworth

Morgen MacIntosh Jennifer Mackie Jill Magnani

Long lines for Boat Dance Tickets in Woodard Campus Center left some out in the cold. The annual event has a capacity of less than 400 students.

Photo By Mike Woodward

Nancy McClain Jettrey McClurken Beth McConnell Mylinda McConnell

Jill McDaniel Kerri McDonald Erin McGintee Jennifer McKay Sheri McKenney W. Scott McKnight Bill McLean Janet McMillan Leah McNeil Jennifer McNure Juhi Mehta Beth Mell Timothy Menninger Nikki Meyers Brook Michalik Susan Milko

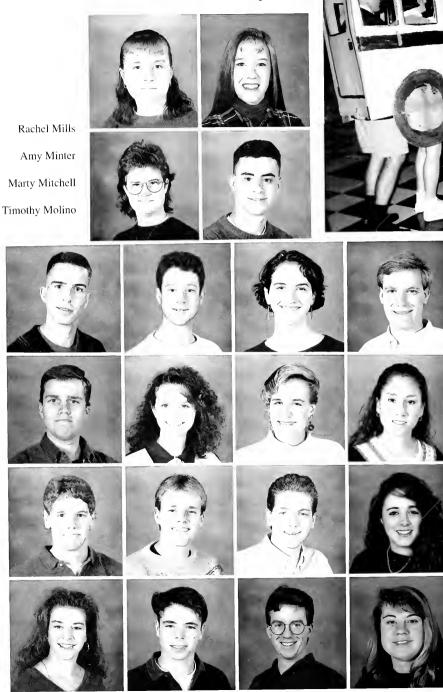

And the Winner Is...

Photo By Anne Stitt

170 • Underclass

Richard Moncrief Gregory Monner Deborah Moore Joseph Moorman Matthew Morin Samantha Morris Genevieve Morrow Christa Moscovis Brian Moyer J. Garrett Moyer Brian Mulford Heather Mullins Jennifer Mullins Alexander Murphy Andy Musk Heather Nadeau

Passengers of the best costume at Holloweens, Donna Douglas, Ed Rollins, Mary Scarborough, Wayne Campbell, Kristen Maestri and Leo Rollins rode their bus in a conga line through the night.

Karen Nestlerode Bridget Newcomb Bie Nguyen

Lara Neer

HOOLS

Underclass • 171

Snow Man Gets Makeover

Rick Oppedisano Karen Orr Karen Orzechowski Joanna Osborne

Anita Overcash

Todd Paleic Kimberley Pandolfi Gene Papetti Nicholas Paradis Barbara Parrett Amy Parrish Kathryn Parsons Allison Pascinto Alethea Patillo Heidi Patterson Elizabeth Payne Ann Perry Carlyle Perry Erica Peterson Deborah Petz

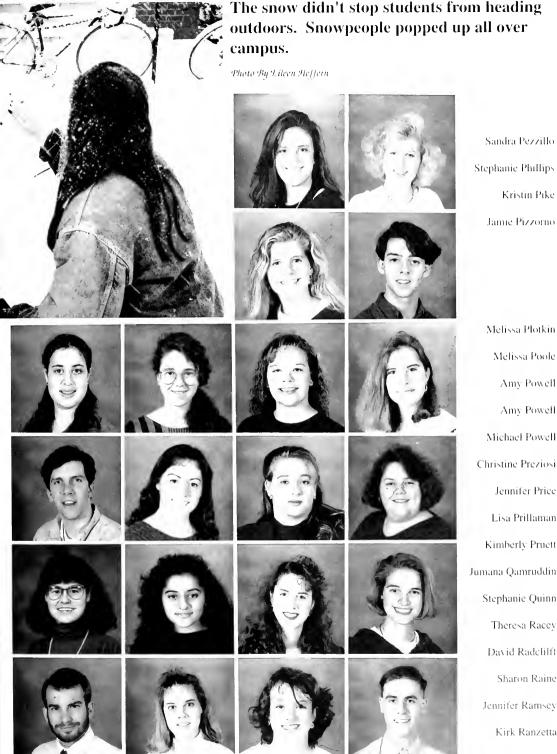

172 • Underclass

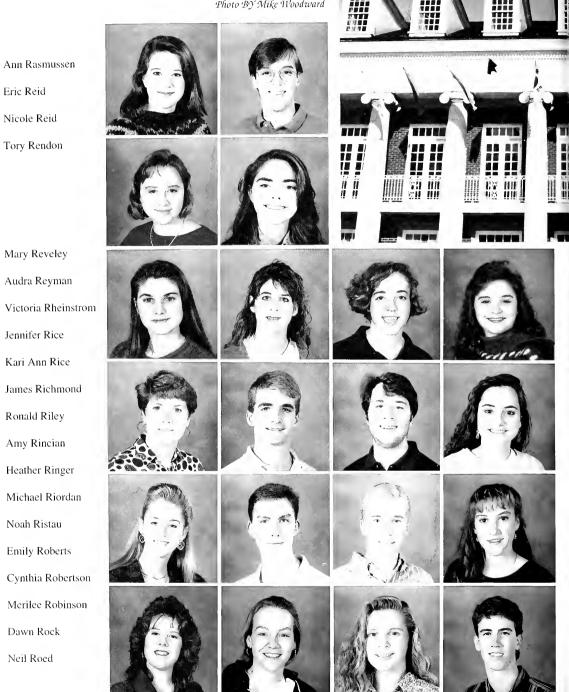

Stephanic Phillips Kristin Pike Jamie Pizzorno

Melissa Poole Amy Powell Amy Powell Michael Powell Christine Preziosi Jennifer Price Lisa Prillaman Kimberly Pruett Jumana Qamruddin Stephanie Quinn Theresa Racey David Radelilft Sharon Raine Jennifer Ramsey

Kirk Ranzetta

The flags that fly over Lee Hall represent the cultural diversity that the college seeks to obtain with each new year.

Photo BY Mike Woodward

174 • Underclass

Flags Flown Proudly

Jacquelyn Romano James Ross Jenniter Rudalf Tomaudrie Rudd

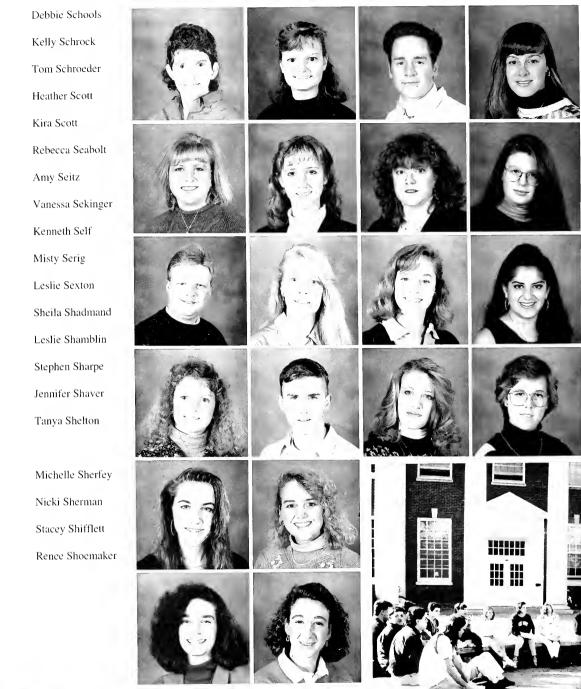

Alan Russo Michelle Russo Bryan Ryals Kyle Ryan Andrew Salp Jason Samuels Stacy Sanders Morgan Sanders Sarah Sando William Sanford Daniele Santillo Scott Sartini Mary Scarborough Anneliese Scherring Richard Schettler Mary Schools

Underclass • 175

Chandler's Ellipse

Photo By Mike Woodward

176 • Underclass

Underclass • 177

Rvan Shriver Heather Shugard John Shumann Tennifer Slumate John Sidebottom Donna Silver Rebecca Silverman Karen Similis Zach Skelding Kelly Skinner Janel Skipwith Emilie Slechta Terri Small Adam Smith Lauren Smith Melissa Smith

> Quigley Smith Stacey Smith Katherine South Joy Sowell

Keeping Up To Date!

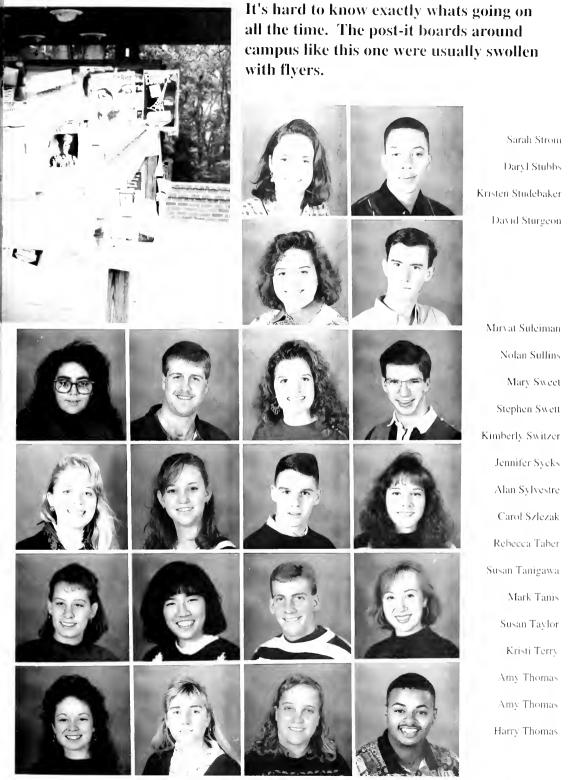

170

Amy Spellerberg Christopher Spencer Heather Spring Cristina Stachling Melissa Stallings Natasha Stancill Matthew Steele Peter Steinberg Brigette Steiniger Lori Stevens Niki Stevenson Chris Stewart Kirsten Stewart Laura Stewart Lesley Stewart Maureen Stinger Shelley Stinnett Philip Stoneman Monica Stovenz

Roy Speckhardt

Inderclass • 1

Theresa Thomas Anthony Thompson Maureen Thompson Tanya Thrasher Landis Tiffany Newton Tiffany Julie Tillman Mare Todd April Tofanelli Robert Tompkins Emily Trexler Mary Trocchia Elizabeth Tua Amy Tubbs Angela Tweedy Amanda Tyler Susannah Uehlinger Kirstan Ulrich

Amy Umberger Karen Valenta

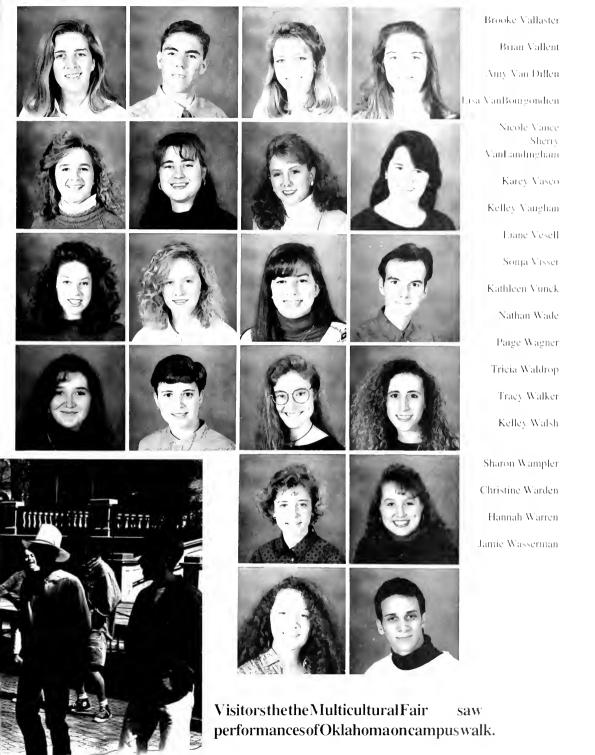

180 • Underclass

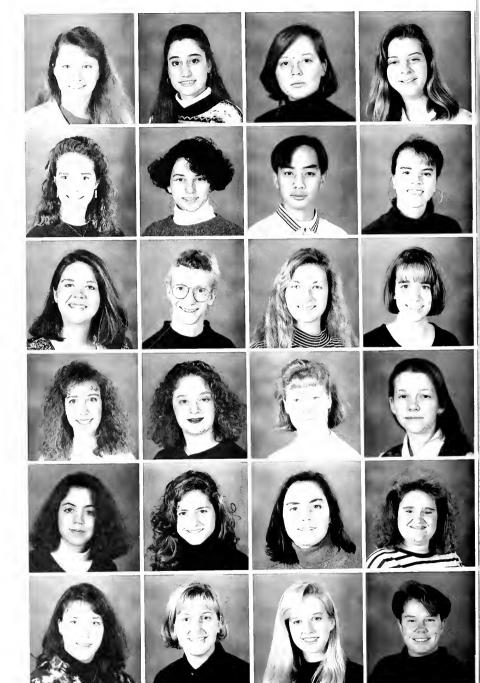

Photo By Mike Woodward

Underclass • 181

Mary Washington's Angel's

Amy Watkins Nicola Weaver Emily Weed Stephanie Weidel Courtney Weise Diana Welty John Westerlund Christina Wheatley Jill Whelan Lowell Whitney Tiffany Whitt Lidie Whittier Renee Wicks Sherrie Wiener Danielle Wilbur Sarah Wilkes Lori Wilkinson LeAnne Williams Stacey Williams Carrie Williamson Rhonda Winn Jodi Winship Amy Wood Kimberly Wood

182 • Underclass

Jen Hawkins, Melissa Grady and Courtney Tolmar robed in white angelic garb for Halloween's.

Photo By Mike Woodward

Jennifer Woodman

Rebecca Woodworth

Kathryn Yachechko

Underclass • 183

Casimir Yasutis Yun Yi Kelly Yospin

Carey Youngs

Noelle Zeiner

Robert Zombron

and Baseball

Junior Brian McRoberts was one of MWC's top releivers.

Junior third Baseman Jeff Tidwell was named All-Conference for the third straight year.

FRONT ROW: Bill Brantley, Adam Wargo, Casey Russell, Adam Brecher, Kevin Howie, Tim Molino, Darrell Snyder, Chris Wright, Richie Treger SECOND ROW: Steve Blankenship, Brian Lillis, Doug Sheldon, Jay Glover, Brain Stigall, Devin Robinson, Scott Stanton, Don Purcell, Head Coach Tom Sheridan BACK ROW: Jeff Tidwell, Joe Del Buono, Kevin Cooke, Brian McRoberts, Alan Hall, Jeff DeSanto, Tim Rice, Brian Abel, Tim Madden, Mark Matthews.

ports MWC The Ace of the Eagle pitching staff, junior Mark Matthews went 6-2 en route to All-Region honors.

	1	C of
	JIL.	C OPP
St. Mary's	6	1
Old Dominion	5	11
Scranton	11	1
Scranton	3	4
St. Mary's	14	2
Bridgewater	11	2 2
VMI	5	1
Guilford	4	3
York (PA)	9	1
York (PA)	8	0
Salisbury	8	}
E. Mennonite	23	8
Gallaudet	18	0
Gallaudet	23	1
Shenandoah	9	2
Catholic	5	1
Catholic	15	1
Randolph-Macon	4	1
Hampden-Sydney	10	11
St. Mary's	7	6
York (PA)	6	1
Bridgewater	7	5
N.C. Wesleyan	10	12

Centerfielder Don Purcell finished his career as MWC's leader in homers and RBI, while becoming MWC's first All-American in 1991. Purcell led the Eagles to three straight NCAA Division III Tournaments.

ports MWC

Sports • 187

Lead by coach Tom Davies, the Eagles reached the Semi-finals of the CAC Tournament for the third consecutive year.

Jasketball

MENS

and

Center Steve Posey led MWC in rebounding for the third straight year and is on pace to become the eighth Eagle in history to score 1,000 points.

MWC

FRONT ROW: Mike Johnson, Kerwin Miller, Dave Carey, Richie Treger, Jeremy White, Billy Hallock, Neal Hutchko

		AC Oppo	nent		C OPP
	44	, 0bb	, 	1 H	Opp
Christopher
Newport	59	85 1	Frostburg State	91	93
VA Wesleyan	55	88	York (PA)	77	90
Shenandoah	107	98	Catholic	87	93
Lynchburg	55	86	St. Mary's	66	62
St. Mary's	77	68	Marymount	77	93
Hampden-Sydney	51	87	Gallaudet	70	81
Washington & Lee	85	83	Shenandoah	94	106
W. Maryland	76	83	Goucher	49	70
Apprentice	78	67	Apprentice	63	65
Marymount	88	89	Catholic	63	65
Gallaudet	74	56	York (PA)	78	81
Goucher	79	62	St. Mary's	56	55
N.C. Wesleyan	71	74	Catholic	74	76

BACK ROW: Corey Hamm, Elgin Holston, Matt Seward, Scott Pate, Neil Gallagher, Steve Posey, David Winningham, Colin Whitehouse, Student Assistant Coach Peter Lee. Jeremy White splits the defenders looking to dish off to an open teammate.

Sports • 189

Chris Paige, a three-year starter, sports a 3.8 grade-point average in a triplemajor of Mathematics, Computer Science and Religion.

FRONT ROW: Jay Wilson. Chris Paige, Angie Parker, Corinne May, BACK ROW: Robin Coates. Jeanette Alexander, Jennifer Bushman, Chris Gleisner, Bridget Rooney, Stefanie Teter

D WOMENS Basketball 190 · Sports

ports MWC

Corinne May led MWC in scoring (16 points/game) en route to Second-Team All-CAC honors.

Head Coach Connie Gallahan led MWC to its second-best win-loss total in Eagle history.

2		^
	1th	C 02
Methodist	76	7()
Ferrum	71	57
W. Maryland	62	66
Notre Dame	97	55
Salisbury	81	78
St. Mary's	60	36
Christopher	61	70
Newport
Ferrum	49	52
Marymount	72	86
Gallaudet	71	69
Goucher	70	36
N.C. Wesleyan	63	53
Frostburg State	50	60
York (PA)	66	84
Catholic	72	53
St. Mary's	78	42
Marymount	88	85
Gallaudet	73	52
Bridgewater	64	54
Goucher	64	63
Shenandoah	71	49
Catholic	78	57
York (PA)	83	69
St. Mary's	77	32
York (PA)	93	70
Marymount	79	103

Cheerleaders were strong The Mary Washington Eagle Cheerleaders were strong supporters of MWC atheletes and boosted the total supporters of MWC atheletes and boosted the total atmosphere of the 1992-1993 season. The cheerleading advisor was Leslie Cornish.

CossCountry MEN'S & WOMEN'S

192 • Sports

FRONT ROW: Crayton Simmons, Dave Janes, Randy Dye, Murray Chesno, Pete Steinberg, Craig Moyer, Nick Duncan; BACK ROW: Mark Sheppard, Keith Steury, Mike Owings, Mike Heinze, Chris Koehler, Eric Pritchett, Jon Gates, Head Coach Stan Soper

FRONT ROW — Allison Coleman, Harriet Greenlee, Emily Howell, Karen Dickinson, Alicia Faggart; BACK ROW — Etta Agan, Lesley Krush, Stacy Sanders, Chrissy Kauten, Jen Dyson

All-Conference senior Lesley Krush helped MWC to a CAC title, while later blossoming in the track and field season (she finished second in the NCAADivision III 1,500 meters in May 1993 en route to All-American honors)

and and

Eagles set up the attack against Dickinson en route to one of their nine victories in best-ever 9-4 season, which culminated in appearance in Capital Athletic Conference Tournament finals.

Head Coach Dana Hall was named Capital Athletic Conference Coach of the Year for the second straight season, and led MWC to an ECAC Tournament berth.

FRONT ROW:

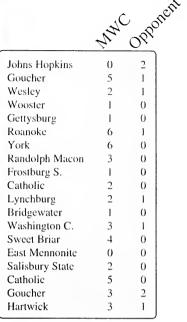

Candice Malone, Chriswsie Avery, Deanna Knorpp, Greta Nelson, April Moshos, Leslie Ptashinski, Kill Cornell, SECOND ROW: Amy Mann, Tracey King, Katie Burke, Elize Huber, Meredith Ierley, Tricia Kube, Suzy Chenault, Kristen Szala, Diane Wickstrom

BACK ROW: Head Coach Dana Soper, Michelle O'Hanlon, Carin Gsellman, Sam Forshey, Stephanie Lowe, Christian Dodd, Bridget Rooney, Grace Massey, Jen Metcalf, Nancy Wilson.

Celebrating with leading scorer Chrissie Avery(left), Candice Malone, a junior All-Conference defender from Reston, VA, was selected among a large contingent for Academic All-American Honors. Malone has a 3.6 overall GPA in her double major, History and Business.

> April Moshos, a junior from Fairfax, VA was chosen a third team All-American field hockey midfielder. Moshos was named the Capital Athletic Conference Player of the Year and a firstteam All-Region selection, helping the Eagles to a second straight CAC title.

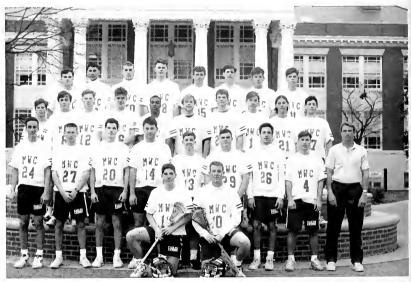

> > ports MWC

Sports • 195

acrosses

FRONT ROW: Coby Frye, Rick Downer SECOND ROW: Alan Russo, Steve Sharpe, Art Eccleston, Steve Fahrenkrog, Derek Hoffman, Nick Hamner, Eric Amtsberg, Chris Bergin, Head Coach Kurt Glaeser; THIRD ROW: Jon Hinrichs, John Martinelli, Aaron Reed, Andy Tuomey, Cecil Powell, Mike Palmer, Bryan Eckle, Chris Trice, Kevin Mack, Scott Kapin

and

BACK ROW: Chris Williams, Ed Mendes, Chris Johann, John Millett, Bill McLean, Steve Terpak, Marc McCrudden, Kurt Bratten.

> Chris Johann added stability and scoring punch to the midfield.

Nick Hamner paced the Eagles in assists(22)

sts(22)	-1	C _	OUL
	the the	08	onent
Shenandoah	34	0
Stockton State	17	6
VA Wesleyan	18	9
Upsala	15	4
Lynchburg	8	16
Marymount	13	7
Plymouth St.	10	9
Wesley	10	1
Randolph-Macon	7	15
Goucher	16	8
Hampden-Sydney	9	13
Dickinson	14	9
St. Mary's	9	15

Harassing goalkeepers was a specialty for freshman attack Bill McLean, who set a school record with 44 goals.

Fiery Chris Bergin was one of MWC's top all-around players in the midfield.

acrosse

Amy Halter draws a crowd but maintains possession.

and

FRONT ROW: Tricia Kube, Candice Malone, Lisa Van Guilder, Ashley Young, Rebecca Manners, Jen Wassif; SECOND ROW: Tara McAvoy, Audrey O'Brien, Eliza Huber, Cheryl Cole, Tara Hollin, Ronna Winn, Mindy Voguit; BACK ROW: Amy Jones, Amy Halter, Heather Hallowes, Katie Marley, Genevieve Chaney, Kim Pandolfi, Head Coach Dana Hall

ports MWC

^{198 •} Sports

-

C		C Opponer	,ir
	the the	Obbo.
Washington C.	15	I
Bridgewater	7	8
Frostburg St.	5	10
St. Mary's	22	6
W. Maryland	14	16
Rowan	7	EL
Sweet Briar	16	6
Randolph-Macon	12	8
Washington & Lee	5	7
Johns Hopkins	8	9
Roanoke	10	15
Lynchburg	9	11
Salisbury	6	8

Top scorer Eliza Huber (31 goals) faces off in front of the new lacrosse/field hockey press box.

Offensive scoring threats Cheryl Cole (left) and Heather Hallowes combined for 43 goals in '93.

> ports MWC

Sports • 199

"Hey...did you know that Mary Washington earned the Region VII overall point title and finished fourth at nationals? Or...was I not supposed to talk?"

Hazelwild Farm allows riders an opportunity to train year-round.

Christine Fullin, a senior from Weston, CT on the MWC Riding Team, won the 1992-93 Scholar-Athlete Award. She is considered the top overall rider in the past decade of MWC's highly successful riding program by her coach Carol Berry. As a freshman, Fullin finished second at Nationals for the Cartier Cup Team in Intermediate Fences. She won the highly competitive Open Fences Division at the 1993 Region 7 Championships for the second straight season agter winning in the Intermediate Fences as a sophomore. She finished as a runner-up in the overall individual point standings for the region as a senior and she paced MWC to the team High-Point Championship in Region 7 this past year. As a Psychology Major, Fullin received a major GPA of 3.67. She was also on the MWC Athletic Honor Roll in six of the previous seven semesters.

An Eagle competitor awaits the upcoming event.

Sports • 201

	О,
1	, Pp
4	4 4	20.
	Opport	nr.
Rowan	1	0
Bentley	2	1
Randolph-Macon	1	0
Methodist	0	2
VA Wesleyan	0	2
Goucher	3	0
Christopher	0	0
Newport
Marymount	8	0
Longwood	1	2
St. Mary's	3	0
Catholic	3	1
Gallaudet	14	0
York	5	0
Johns Hopkins	1	0
Roanoke	0	1
Shenandoah	3	0
Catholic	5	0
St. Mary's	1	0
VA Wesleyan	2	0
Randolph-Macon	2	1

Goalkeeper Ryan Wilvert was named Second-Team All-CAC, helping to anchor a strong MWC defense. The Eagles won a third state title in five seasons.

202 • Sports

Is and and Sources and Sources

Dodd Terry, a senior from Middletown. NJ, won the 1992-93 Scholar-Athlete Award in soccer. During his four varsity seasons, he started all 81 games for MWC's men's soccer team which won 60 and lost just 15 with 6 ties. As a freshman and sophomore, Terry participated in two NCAA Division III Soccer Tournaments and was a member of two Capital Athletic Conference and Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association championship teams. Terry was a History Major with a 3.8 (major) GPA. He was on the MWC Athletic Honor Roll in all seven previous semesters.

FRONT ROW: Gus Carmona-Ernst. Jason Lawrence, Chris Caputo, dodd Terry, Matt St. Amand, Tony Trepal, Tommy Walthall, David Holt, Victor Balesta, BACK ROW: Any McDonald, Ross Ramsey, Terry Murphy. Ted Keim, Rich Linkonis, Sammy Clark, Ryan Wilvert, Jeff Kramer, Sean Forde, Jakob Kramer, Casimir Yasutis, John Lee Head Coach Roy Gordon, NOT PICTURED: Doug Jester, Asst Coaches Mike Webb, Chris Farrell.

> ports MWC

Sports • 203

Dickinson	2	0
VA Wesleyan	4	2
Emory	1	1
Salem State	0	1
William & Mary	0	5
Trenton State	0	1
Catholic	3	0
Marymount	1	0
Goucher	13	0
George Washington	0	6
Washington & Lee	3	0
Johns Hopkins	6	0
NC Wesleyan	0	2
Methodist	3	1
Randolph-Macon	3	0
St. Mary's	3	0
Roanoke	0	1
Marymount	5	0
Catholic	7	1
NC Wesleyan	1	0
Wooster	1	0
Denison	1	0
Mass-Dartmouth	0	1

Senior fullback Jenn Almy was a steady force in the back line.

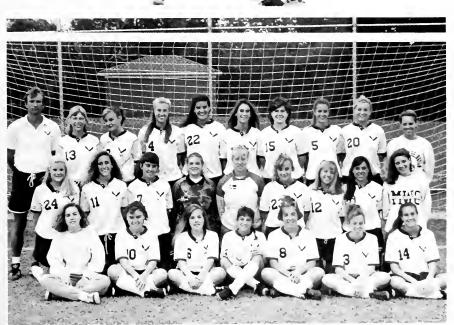

Contended and Co

Virginia College Division Coach of the Year Kurt Glaeser led his team to an NCAA Tournament semifinal appearance. MWC, which also won a second straight CAC title, held the first-ever national-championship event ever on the MWC campus when three other semifinalists joined the Eagles at The Battleground.

Senior All-Region forward Ashley Young had more ups than downs in her brilliant career. finishing as MWC's second all-time scorer.

FRONT ROW: Laura Duffey, Mary Knight, Heather Kincaid, Alissa Magrum, Victoria Rheinstrom, Karen Grese, Naomi Fagan, SECOND ROW: Kim Williams, Kelley Walsh, Mary Beth Leightley, Michelle Labbe, Amy Wilvert, Sandy Garrett, Beck Miller, Kelly Thelen, May Gulick, BACK ROW: Head Coach Kurt Glaeser, Jenn Almy, Bev Hoover, Kirstan Ulrich, Jennifer Cochran, Julie Mason, Ashley Young, Stefanie Teter, Carey

Like teammate Tasha Thomas, Kerri Endler was an All-CAC pitcher.

The Capital Athletic Conference Player of the Year for the second straight year, Tasha Thomas pitched MWC to a third

Shortstop Tasha Stancill hit over .300 as a freshman for the 18-11 Eagles. consecutive CAC championship.

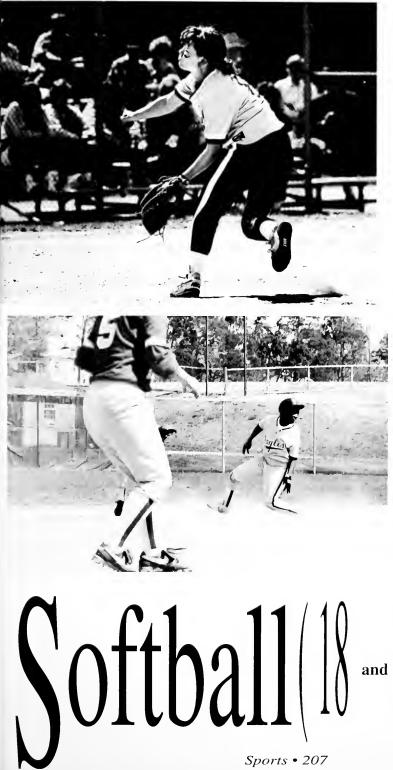

FRONT ROW : Tracy Phillips, Jackie Davis, Jay Wilson, Kerri Endler, Pam Williams, Janel Skipwith, Kim James BACK ROW:Darlene Forst. Carin Gsellman, Tasha Thomas. Amy Umberger, Jen Cleary, Mel Haynie, Tasha Stancill, Erin McGintee.

ports MWC

206 • Sports

MWC DDONCHI

Ferrum	4	1
Methodist	7	2
Southampton	7	4
Rowan	0	8
Methodist	5	1
NC Wesleyan	2	1
NC Wesleyan	2 2	1
Bridgewater	1	2
Bridgewater	4	1
E. Mennonite	2	7
E. Mennonite	6	3
Ramapo		8
Kean (NJ)	2 3	1
Muhlenberg	3	1
William Paterson	0	3
Virginia	0	10
Virginia	0	6
Gallaudet	3	0
Gallaudet	1	0
Longwood	3	0
Longwood	0	1
York (PA)	8	1
Catholic	7	0
Salisbury State	3	1
Salisbury State	3 2 3 5	3
Ramapo	3	0
Penn State	5	4
-Behrend
Penn State	2	10
-Behrend
Penn State	1	2
-Behrend

Outfielder Jay Wilson was the team's top hitter and a standout defensive player.

> ports MWC

Junior Amanda Clair was the CAC Champion in the 100 Breast Stroke.

Summing NWC 208 · Sports

Shannon Hutcherson contributed to four All American relay teams and became MWC's first ever individual national champion. She accepted CAC plaque from MWC Associate Athletic Director Roy Gordon.

MIN CORDOL	. 4	on opp	b.
W _C "	Chi	WC D	Oneni

	-
· · · ·	1+1 +
.
	1- 62

	-	•		(
Goucher	117	87	121	75
Catholic	92	113	153	53
Washington	82	120
& Lee
Richmond	100	108	97	128
St. Mary's	, 116	73	116	66
U of the	59	29	57	31
South

The CAC champion Eagle men and women took the victory stand for the third straight year at Goolrick Pool FRONT ROW Barak Carter, Matt Mejia, Jill Trussell, Ali Murdock. Larissa Noyek. Nancy McClain, Karen Edmison, Alison Cerul, Megan Carter, Heidi Heise, Sarah Hertz, Amanda Clair, Josh Lontz, Adam Owings, Bobby Kelly, Lee Lewis SECOND ROW Brian Mulford, Fred Nelson, Mike Weil, Carrie Lewis, Merilee Robinson, Sarah King, Shannon Hutcherson, Whitby Joyner, Konrad Heller, Coach Paul Richards BACK ROW Stewart Gill, Kevin Ahearn, Dave Carillo, Cordis Carter, Elize Barcus, Amanda Dresser, Kim Britt, Liz Darcy, Scott Wagner, Kent Secker, Al Wolstenholme.

MWC

Sophomore Bridget Rooney, also a field hockey and basketball performer, was one of MWC's top throwers.

Senior Tammy Buhite was a six-time All-American jumper who finished her career as one of the most-decorated athletes in Eagle history.

FRONT ROW Assistant Coach Dan Grimes, Harriet Greenlee, Christine Redmon, Tonya Thrasher, Jan Randow, Heather Wickstrom, Arleen Hill, Renee Shoemaker, Tammy Buhite; SECOND ROW Assistant Coach Carl Braun, Allison Coleman, Etta Agan, Rebecca Silverman, Karen Dickinson, Emily Howell, Bridget Rooney, Bonnie Bullock, Alicia Faggart, Meloney Wallace; BACK ROW Stephanie Lowe, Lisa Vanbourgondien, Jen Dyson, Lesley Krush, Becky Perry, Stacy Sanders, Chrissy Kauten, Amy Tubbs, Head Coach Stan Soper

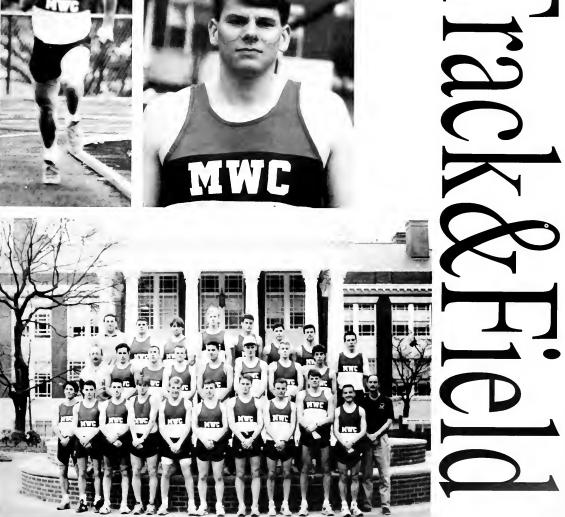

ports MWC

210 • Sports

Sprinter Rob Hoover defended his CAC pole vault championship.

Senior Jono Crowe repeated as Capital Athletic Conference high jump and javelin champion, leading the Eagles to a first-ever CAC Men's Track and Field Championship.

FRONT ROW Nick Duncan, Jason Lawrence, Mike Heinze, Chris Koehler, Mark Tanis, Jeff Willoughby, Mike Britton, Craig Moyer, Jono Crowe, Murray Chesno, Head Coach Stan Soper: SECOND ROW Assistant Coach Dan Grimes, Jeff Hood, Rob Hoover, Dave Janes, Mark Sheppard, Fred Draper, Bill Scott, Darren Bach, Jon Gates: BACK ROW Assistant Coach Carl Braun, Matt Baroody, John Richard, Chris Richardson, Keith Steury. Pete Steinberg, Mike Dmochowski

Sports • 211

ports MWC

1	in or	Don .
	C.	Doneni
Guilford	8	1
E. Mennonite	7	2
Christopher	7	2
Newport
VA Intercollegia	ate	1st Place
Tennis Assoc.	Tourn	n.
Lynchburg	8	1
Washington	1	8
& Lee
VA Wesleyan	8	1
VMI	2	5
Catholic	7	2
Apprentice	8	1
School
Liberty	4	5
Hampden-	3	6
Sydney
CAC Champion	ship	1st Place
Randolf-Macon	9	0

0

Λ

A team leader and four-year starter, Matt Bolen was a three-time All-CAC player who finished with a career singles mark of 47-27.

FRONT ROW: Head Coach Roy Gordon, Chop Goodman, Steve Dykes, Matt Bolen, Eric Geshekter, Walter Adcock BACK ROW: Steve Paskiewicz, Garrentt Moyer, John Neal, Matt Strickler, Pat Catullo.

ports MWC

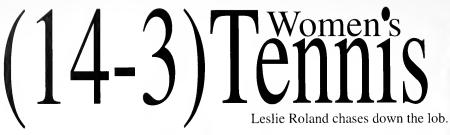

Men's Tennis

Three-time All-CAC junior Garrett Moyer went 13-4 at singles and teamed with Matt Strickler for a 14-1 mark at #3 doubles.

Eric Geshekter (pictured) teamed with senior Matt Bolen for a 13-4 season at #1 doubles, including CAC and state championships.

Seniors Matt Strickler (60-11 career singles record) and Chip Goodman (60-16) were both three-time All-Conference players who helped MWC compile a 39-18 record in their four-year careers.

"The Ohio Connection" of Kate South (left) and starters Beth Todd, Trish Whitefield and

All-American Leslie Roland.

Junior Pia Holm joined Leslie Roland as doubles All-Americans for an Eagle team which went 14-3 and advanced to the NCAA semifinals for the seventh time in the last 12 seasons.

FRONT ROW: Leslie Roland Pia Holm, Kate South, Kathleen Harter BACK ROW: Trish Whitefield, Anna Jackson, Head Coach Ed Hegmann, Beth Todd, Laura Graham.

ports MWC

Setter Jay Wilson was named First-TeamAll-CAC for the second straight year.

All-Region hitter Tamalyn Reed helped MWC to a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances in 1990 and '91 and an ECAC South Region Championship in '92 as a senior.

ports MWC

Dan Abel Biology

David Ambuel Classics, Philosophy & Religion

ABEL

Rosemary Barra Biology

Michael Bass Enviornmental Science & Geology

Keith Belli Drama

Topher Bill Psychology

CAIN

Robert Boughner Classics, Philosphy & Religion

> Roger Bourdon History

Marshall Bowen Geography

Jean-Marc Braem Modern Foreign Languages

> Gail Brooks Computer Science

David Cain Classics, Philosopy & Religion

Manning Collier Mathematics

Tim Crippen Sociology & Anthropology

Stephen Czarsty Business Administration

Tom Davies Physical Education

Daniel Dervin English, Linguistics & Speech

Betty Durrer Mathematics

COLLER

GOUGER

Lew Fickett, Jr. Political Science

Jane Gatewood Writing Center

Kurt Glaeser Physical Education

Jim Goehring Classics, Philosphy & Religion

> Roy Gordon Pyhsical Education

> > James Gouger Geography

Steve Griffin Art

Dana Hall-Soper Physical Education

Susan Hanna English, Linguistics & Speech

Bill Hanson Sociology & Anthropology

Ed Hegmann Physical Education

Carter Hudgins Historic Preservation

GRIFFIN

KILMARTIN

223 • Faculty

David Hunt, Jr. Drama

Rosemary Ingham Drama

> Michael Joyce Drama

Bill Kemp, Jr. English, Linguistics & Speech

Terry Kennedy English, Linguistics & Speech

> Christopher Kilmartin Psychology

John Kramer Political Science

Genine Lentine English, Linguistics & Speech

Lynn Lewis Biology

Stephen Lipscomb Mathematics

Carol Manning English, Linguistics & Speech

NISSIM-SABAT

Bob McConnell Environmental Science & Geology

Susan Miller Modern Foreign Languages

> Brown Morton III Historic Preservation

> > Joe Nicholas Geography

Janet Nicodemus Biology

Denis Nissim-Sabat Psychology

225 · Faculty

Bruce O'Brien History

Deborah O'Dell Biology

Gregory Ohlmacher Enviornmental Science & Geology

Joan Olson Sociology

Larry Penwell Psychology

Mary Pinschmidt Biology

Andrea Purdy Modern Foreign Languages

Donald Rallis Geograpy

Joanna Reynolds Modern Foreign Languages

Paul Richards, Jr. Physical Education

Mark Rozell Political Science

Douglas Sanford Historic Preservation

James Shelton Business Administration

Tom Sheridan Physical Education

Harry Skinner Business Administration

Paul Slayton, Jr. Education

Constance Smith English, Linguistics & Speech

Roy Smith Psychology

Stan Soper Physcial Education

Stephen Stageberg Economics

Gary Stanton Historic Preservation

228 • Faculty

Greg Stull Drama

Suzanne Sumner Mathematics

> Pat Sutor Biology

Arthur Tracy History

Brenda Vogel Education

Dick Warner History

SteveWatkins English, Linguistics and Speech

Fred Whitman Business Adminstration

Werner Wieland Biology

Paul Zisman Education

ZISMAN

ANDERSON

William Anderson President

> Jennifer Blair Admissions

Vicki Campbell Administrative Asst to President

Gloria Day Exec Sec Business and Finance

Keith Hairston Director of Upward Bound

Deborah Harber Asst Dean for Financial Aid

Administration • 231

John MacDonald Director of Campus Recreation

Frank Mason Asst VP for Business and Finance

Venitta McCall Director, James Farmer Scholars

Ray Merchent Executive Vice President

Lucy Olson Executive Secretary

Carol Parkinson Senior Secretary, English, Linguistics and Speech

MaDNALD

HIE

William Ray Pope Asst VP for Planning, Assesment and Instition Research

> CedricRucker Associate Director of Student Activities

Jefferey Smith Couseler, Cooridinator Upward Bound

Lori Turner Administrative Assistant Student Activities

Wilma Tynes Academic Coardinator, Upward Bound

David White Asst Dean of Admissions

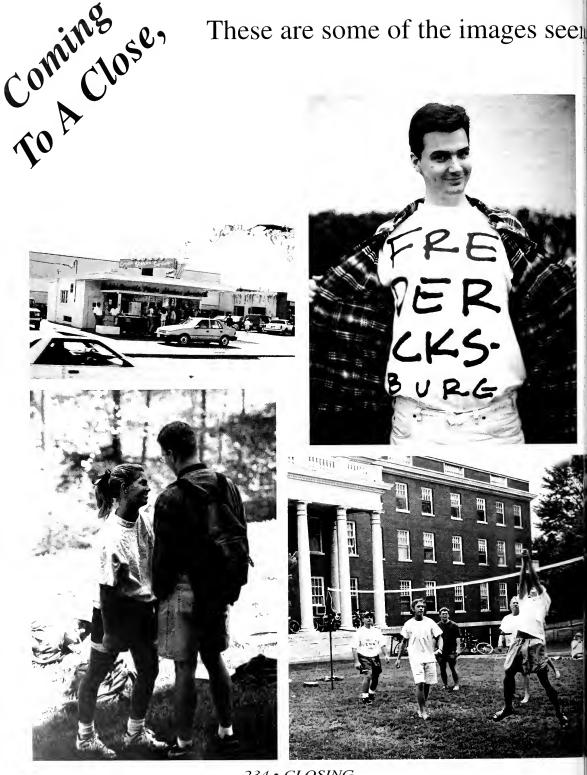

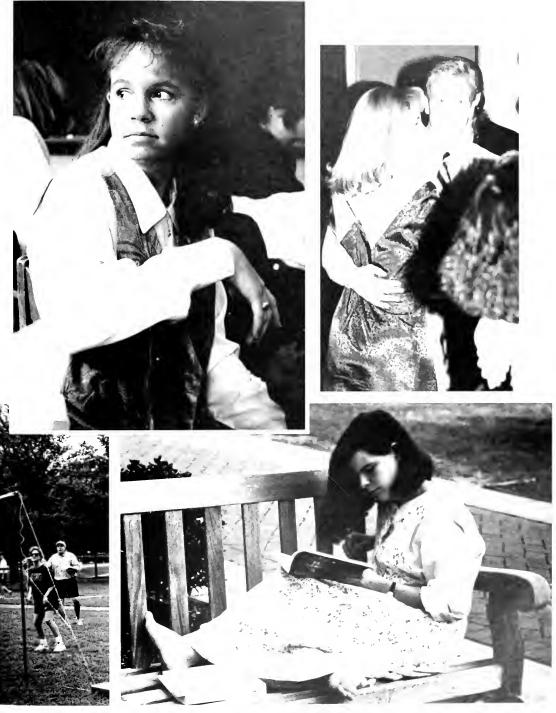

234 • CLOSING

at MWC during the 1992-1993 school year...

235 • CLOSING

237 • CLOSING

by Jeremy Cline and Adam Fike

We set out to write a column about a Legend that never lived. We wanted somebody from this school, from its past, to show how silly all this school stuff really is, and to prove that there is no reason for us to take the real world seriously after all.

(At first we wanted a real legend, but there just isn't room in our busy lives for research, so we decided to make one up. (The person also had to be a guy, because we don't understand girls))

The goal here is to protest something. This may be our last chance to fly in the face of established ideas, so we might as well take advantage of it.

Our idea came from Eddie The Eagle, a master of not possibly being able to win. Where are our Eddies? Who is out there fighting for our right to believe that no matter what we try, there is a chance that we may not suck.

In 1968 or 69 there was a mass rally in Washington to levitate the pentagon in the name of peace and love. Around that same time almost the entire campus walked to D.C., just to dance naked in the reflecting pool. We dig this silliness; Right On!

Sit-ins, and Freedom Rides in the sixties changed the world and let the college world rise up and stretch its muscles in the name of Right. Ok, maybe the chance to impact history is not as clear as it once was, but there is no reason we can't stretch a little. So it was our choice to act in the name of students everywhere and to create a character brave enough to carry our most powerful weapon - absurdity.

Once on the TV show Night Court, Harry Stone quit his job as a judge with the sole purpose in life to place a Groucho fake nose and glasses on the Statue of Liberty. This is what we are looking for. We want an act both futile and random.

But, you know we got it pretty good here. Sure, this 24-7 thing is a bitch, and the administration doesn't seem to listen or care, but for God's sake, the biggest issue to hit this campus in the last two years is whether commuters should park on College Heights. Yea, we have to study all the time, but all those who haven't drank at least twice a week this. semester stand up. (And question what the hell you are doing with your lives) Papers are hard to write and tests are hard, but compared to the rest of the world we sure could do worse. This leaves little to fight about.

After all, our biggest foe is fear. The real world is scary. We have a short lease left on our childhood, and four years to figure out what to do with it. What comes after this? Mortgages? Kids? Jobs? Baldness?

To tell the truth, we just couldn't think of anything. Spray paint is expensive, and nudity is quite frankly passe'. Its no wonder that our Eddie The Eagle followed a pretty normal path.

He was sitting peacefully and enjoying his commencement exercises, the last moments of his college life. Speakers droned on and he began to think back on the past four or five years of his life.

Moving into the dorm a nervous freshman, barfing on campus walk, staying up all night studying for an exam, skipping classes, figuring out that he couldn't skip class, having his first serious girlfriend, being broke, taking on the responsibility of renting his own house, blacking out, failing a class, acing an exam. It seemed like so much living had been packed into these past four years. He had experienced quite a bit in college, and at some point had become an adult. It had snuck up and surprised him. In a lot of ways that pissed him off.

So he stood up. A few people turned as he began to walk down the center aisle away from the podium. He stopped for a moment and thought about Bill Anderson. He smiled at him and waved. Bill waved back. He didn't seem to want to be there either. "Want to come with me Bill ?" he asked. "Where are you going ?" asked Bill. "I don't know," Eddie said. "I've already been there," Bill answered.

More and more people began to notice him as he strode away. He threw off his hat. He didn't need it. His took off his gown. The diploma didn't mean much to him. He had learned what he could and forgotten the rest. Besides, the most important thing was being there. The paper had nothing to do with that.

Shirt, pants, in fact all of his clothes followed (Nakedness might be passe', but it sure is fun). The troubling part was what would come next. There was really nothing between him and real life. He knew it would change him. He liked the who he was and he didn't want to change. Everyone was ignoring him now, and were lining up to get on with their lives. They might be able to take him alive, he decided, but they weren't going to take him boring.

239 • CLOSING

This Postcard was spotted on a door in Alvey, We here at the BATTLEFIELD felt this about sums it up for Life on Marye's Heights!

And Finally, Fat Dumb & Happy in Fredericksburg, VI

> The 1993 Battlefield apologizes for its tardiness and promises the 1994 Battlefield will be out the first-second week back in the Fall.

1994 EDITOR Mike Woodward

